TESTIFY TO HEAVY USE OF R.R. CROSSING

A total of 28,555 vehicles and 9,846 pedestrians crossed the Western Maryland railway tracks during the 48-hour period between noon Saturday, October 7, and noon Monday, October 9, according to testimony given by the railway company's engineers at a Pennsylvania Utility Commission hearing held in the court house here this morning.

The hearing was held in connection with the proposal to place a blinker light system on the railroad at the Carlisle street crossing to warn of approaching trains.

The engineers said the company is willing to spend $9,000 to install the lights and $300 per year maintenance costs to keep them running. There will be no cost to the borough or highway department for installation or maintenance of the warning lights.

K. L. Muse, signal and telephone engineer for the Western Maryland, and G. H. Hornbaker, Hagerstown, division engineer, testifying before the PUC examiner said a count made of the traffic across the crossing showing that 9,342 automobiles, 1,082 trucks, 46 buses, 15 motorcycles and 5,173 pedestrians and bicycle riders crossed the tracks between 12 noon October 7 and midnight. The heaviest pedestrian traffic during that Saturday night period was between 7 and 8 o'clock when 808 persons walked across the railroad. During the next hour, 620 pedestrians went by and during the four-hour period, from 6 to 10 o'clock, a total of 2,270 pedestrians crossed the railroad at Carlisle street.

The largest number of automobiles to pass during any one hour in the 48 hour period was 728, which passed between 7 and 8 o'clock on Saturday night, October 7. The constant stream of traffic was almost duplicated Sunday, October 8, between 3 and 4 o'clock when 715 cars went by.

Five Accidents There

Traffic from 12:01 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 8, to 11:59 p.m. on that date totaled 8,783 cars, 377 trucks, 43 buses, three motorcycles and 2,416 pedestrians and bicycles. From 12:01 a.m. Monday, October 9, until 11:59 p.m. on that date 7,296 cars, 1,516 trucks, 52 buses and 2,257 pedestrians and bicycles crossed the railway tracks. The largest truck traffic in any one hour was between 10 and 11 a.m. October 7 when 120 trucks went by. During the period from 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., 575 trucks crossed the tracks.

During the last two years there have been five accidents at the crossing the Western Maryland men said. All occurred during the period the watchman is not on duty. The present watchman is there from 7:30 a.m. to 6:15 p.m. each day of the week. With the automatic blinker light there will be 24-hour protection, the engineers said.

During the 48-hour period 16 freight trains crossed the area and there were 28 switching movements by Western Maryland trains.

To Decide On Blinkers

The engineers said with the blinker system to be installed a warning signal will be given only when the trains actually are scheduled to cross Carlisle street, and no signal will be given when the trains are merely switching in the area near the crossing and do not plan to cross.

Attorney Franklin R. Bigham represented the Western Maryland at the hearing. Councilmen Samuel Weiser and Mahlon P. Hartzell represented the borough along with Attorney Eugene V. Bullett who represented both the borough and county in the hearing.

Testimony given at the hearing will be used by the PUC commissioners in determining their final findings on whether to permit installation of the blinker signal.

Father Stock "Fine" In Hospital Today

The Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor emeritus of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, was reported as "doing fine" today at the Warner hospital where he was removed Thursday evening with a virus infection causing a congestion of the lungs.

Dr. John J. Knox, his physician, said that Father Stock was "fine" today after having spent much of the night in an oxygen tent at the hospital.

He became ill about 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Michael Flynn, Baltimore street, where he had walked from the rectory on West High street, for a visit.

As he became rapidly worse, the doctor was called, and Father Stock was found to have a fever of more than 103 degrees and the heavy congestion. He was removed by ambulance from the Flynn home to the hospital.

This Is Life Under Russians

Berlin, Nov. 10 (AP) — A Soviet sector court sentenced a 20-year-old east Berlin youth today to a year in jail for comparing his goose to the Communist regime.

A policeman testified the youth told him he had a goose "fat like Pieck and cackles like Grotewohl."

(The names referred to Wilhelm Pieck, east Germany's portly Communist president, and Otto Grotewohl, the Russian zone's lean but voluble prime minister.)

RIPLEY DISPLAY HERE SATURDAY

Robert Ripley's personal collection of "Believe It or Not" oddities, being exhibited on national tour under auspices of Disabled American Veterans, will be presented in Lincoln Square on Saturday by Chapter 30, of the Pennsylvania Disabled American Veterans.

On display in this exhibit will be some of the original drawings picturing odd facts Ripley gathered. Every item is selected from the unusual assortment of strange things which Mr. Ripley unearthed during his explorations in all parts of the world.

The mobile exhibit is mounted in a special custom-built trailer, featurning the world-famous "Man or Image" for which Ripley seached for 20 years and oddities and wonders of every age and every part of the world. There is a skeleton of a two-headed baby, a petrified mermaid, a collection of wooden nickels and dozens of other items.

CLYDE RANKIN ARMISTICE DAY SPEAKER AT HS

A minute of silent tribute to the members of the armed forces in Korea concluded the talk given this morning by Clyde E. Rankin, deputy adjutant general of Pennsylvania at the high school here.

Rankin was the principal speaker at the annual Armistice Day exercises held by the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion in the auditorium of the local high school before the entire student body.

"On November 11, 1918, the men of America crawled out of the ground into the sunlight and resumed living," Rankin told the students. "They had fought for freedom for their generation. And every generation of Americans since the founding of our country has had that same duty. Today members of your own generation, men 17, 18 and 19 years of age are carrying on the struggle for freedom on the distant shores of Korea.

Wars Fought By Youth

"We pray God that you young men who are in the high schools of our nation will never have to don the uniform of the armed forces and engage in war to keep alive the freedoms that are our heritage.

"But I do not have to remind you that the wars of this nation are fought by its youth. It will be your responsibility unless people in high places are able to solve the problem of obtaining peace.

"No one knows what the future holds in store. But of this all can be certain, that your generation will do its part as did the generations that preceded it."

Paul B. Fox, past commander of the Lentz post introduced the speaker. Jacob M. Sheads, history teacher at Gettysburg high school and a lieutenant colonel in World War II presided. The pledge of allegiance was led by Boy Scout James Coleman and Girl Scout Vicki Maust. The high school choir and band took part in the program, with the band playing a medley of patriotic airs and the "Star Spangled Banner." The choir sang "Prayer for Peace," "This Is My Country" and "The Lord Bless You."

BULLETINS

New Delhi, India, Nov. 10 (AP) — Tibet today was reliably reported to have appealed to the United Nations for aid and intervention against the invading Chinese Communists.

Reliable sources here, who refused to be identified by name said the appeal had been made directly to the U. N. (No word of the Tibetan appeal had been reported from U. N. headquarters in Lake Success early today).

Taipei, Formosa, Nov. 10 (AP) — A typhoon was expected to hit Taipei tonight—barring a sudden change in course. Air and sea transport services were interrupted today. One steamer carrying a cargo of bananas from Japan was forced to return to the North Formosan port of Keelung.

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, forcasting that the full impact of rearmament will hit industry "next spring or summer," said today the government has dropped the idea of controlling production by voluntary means.

The national production authority (NPA), Sawyer told a news conference, will rely chiefly on mandatory orders because voluntary, industry-wide compacts "just won't work."

Paris, Nov. 10 (AP) — A foreign ministry spokesman says a Russian plane is expected to land at Orly field near here today or tomorrow to take French Communist Boss Maurice Thorez to the Soviet Union for medical treatment. Thorez suffered a stroke last month, but has been reported to be improving. The Russians sent a specialist to examine him.

Youth Injured In Highway Accident

A 17-year-old Brodbeck R. 1 boy was seriously injured Thursday evening about 6 o'clock when his brother's car, in which he was a passenger, crashed into the rear of an auto parked on the Black Rock road, about one mile east of Hanover.

Glenn L. Meckley was taken to the Hanover hospital, where he was admitted for treatment of rib fractures and possible spine injuries.

His brother, Clitus E. Mickley, Jr., 21, was driving the car which ran into a vehicle operated by G. Howard Danner, 62, of Abbottstown R. 1, state police said.

Police said Danner's car had just passed an intersection when it stopped on the highway. Meckley's vehicle, going in the same direction, could not stop in time to avoid the crash. No estimate of damage was available.

Regret Ill-Advised Decision

GETTYSBURG CAMP NO. 112
Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, U.S.A.

Gettysburg, Pa., November 8, 1950

The Editor, Gettysburg Times,
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir,

The proposed removal of the central plot in Lincoln Square by the Borough Council is certainly a great disappointment to the members of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, who planned to start a fund raising campaign throughout the country to place a suitable bronze memorial to our late great president in the central plot such as the magnificent bronze of the great Emancipator in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C.

As far as the center plot creating a traffic hazard, the mere erection of traffic lights on the four corners of the square would take care of present difficulties. Numerous circles exist in Washington and other cities without adding to the burden of moving traffic.

It is a fact often over looked by many communities, that town after town has sacrificed its shade trees and other so called obstacles to progress, only to learn when it is too late that they have given up everything that has added to the attractiveness of the community. Many such towns today are spending thousands of dollars to restore the quaint obstacles that thoughtless town fathers have destroyed in the name of progress.

We certainly hope that the Borough Council will reconsider their ill-advised decision before any further action is taken.

Sincerely,

Joseph H. Riley, Comm. Paul A. Snyder, Sec'y.
Willis R. Doyle, Sen. V.-Comm.

Spanish War Veterans Oppose Removal Of Lincoln Sq. Plot

Members of the Sergeant William M. Steffy Camp No. 126, United Spanish War Veterans, meeting Thursday evening at the VFW post home on Carlisle street voted unanimously in favor of retention of the center plot in Lincoln Square.

John A. Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer of the organization, said the USWV members particularly opposed removal of the plot because of their hope that a Lincoln statue may eventually be erected in the center of the square. They held that removal of the plot would prevent ever placing a Lincoln monument in Lincoln square.

Newly elected officers of the post were installed. They include Charles T. Zeigler, Gettysburg, commander; John W. Zercher, Hanover, senior vice commander; Harry Legore, Hanover, junior vice commander; Ralph Sandoe, Biglerville, officer of the day; John A. Zimmerman, Gettysburg, adjutant; Samuel Snyder, Littlestown, trustee for three years; Robert E. Tipton, Gettysburg, trustee for two years; Clayton King, Gettysburg, trustee for one year; William Bechtel, Hanover, chaplain; Percy Robinson, Gettysburg R. 5, senior color sergeant; Wilbert Buohl, Hanover, junior color sergeant and Wallace Bell, Fayetteville, officer of the guard.

YOUNG FARMERS OPPOSE CENTER PLOT REMOVAL

The Adams County Young Farmers association went on record Thursday night at a meeting in the Biglerville auditorium as opposing the removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square.

Vice President Alton Good introduced the motion urging Gettysburg borough council to drop its plans to remove the center plot "Through the years," Good said, "the center plot has become a landmark, something that sets Gettysburg off from other communities. There has been enough standardization in the country without having our county seat join other cities in having nothing but a concrete slab in the center of it."

Chapter To Act

Good added that the Cannonball chapter of the Pennsylvania Young Farmers, one of the units making up the county association, plans to adopt a similar resolution at its meeting next week.

Secretary George Alwine was instructed to write a letter to the president of the Gettysburg town council, H. M. Oyler, setting forth the views of the county Young Farmer on the subject.

Richard C. Lighter, county supervisor of agricultural education, who is adviser to the county Young Farmers group, commended the organization on "stepping outside the usual routine of your organization to discuss the matter of the center plot in Gettysburg. As citizens in a democracy we should be interested in all about us, rather than our own pursuits alone. Since Gettysburg is a place where you as farmers do business, and since it is our county seat, all of us should express our opinions concerning any change that may be proposed for it."

Install Officers

Newly elected officers of the Young Farmers were installed with veterans' agriculture teachers of the county taking the part of the installing of officers.

An executive committee meeting will be held at the court house here December 7 at 8 o'clock at which members to represent the county aroup at the state convention will be elected. The state Pennsylvania Young Farmers meeting will be held in connection with the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg.

All members of the Young Farmers organizations in the county were urged to attend the Pennsylvania State Farm show activities at Harrisburg in January.

Plans for increased membership were discussed, with all chapters in the county announcing plans to set up membership committees. Members of the four chapters automatically become members of the county organization.

63 BABES BORN HERE IN OCTOBER

Sixty-three births and 19 deaths occurred in the Gettysburg area during the past month, Ralph C. Geiselman, registrar of vital statistics for the area which includes Gettysburg, and Cumberland, Straban, Freedom and Highland townships said today.

During the same month last year, the number was 71 births, and 12 deaths. Despite the decline during the past month, the totals for the first ten months of this year show the number of births to exceed the number during the comparable period a year ago. This year so far there have been 670 births as compared to 643 during the same ten months last year. Deaths in the first ten months this year totalled 151 as compared to 149 for the same period a year ago.

Most of the births and deaths in October occurred in Gettysburg, including 34 male and 27 female births and eight male and seven female deaths. There was one birth, a female, in Freedom township and one death, a male in that township. No births or deaths were recorded from Straban and Highland townships. Red Tanks And Supply Lines Lambasted By Allied Planes

Seoul, Nov. 10 (AP)—Allied warplanes hit 10 Russian-built tanks today in wrecking relentlessly at Chinese Communist forces withdrawing into far North Korea's wooded mountains.

Bombers and jet fighters carrying half-ton bombs smashed at Red supply lines near the south of the Yalu river boundary of Communist Manchuria.

American and Red jet fighters engaged in two flashing chases near the major Red crossing point—the northwest border town of Sinuiju. No losses on either side were reported.

U. S. jets destroyed eight enemy tanks and damaged two in Red territory south and southeast of Sinuiju. Twenty-five trucks and other vehicles were destroyed and seven trucks damaged.

Lull Continues

The puzzling lull in the ground action continued into its fifth day. There was only patrol action and minor skirmishing.

Inland from the east coast, the U. S. Marines observed the 175th anniversary of the corps by rolling onto a plateau to within three miles of the vital Changjin power dam. It was a gain of six miles.

There was no opposition. Abandoned packs indicated the haste of the Chinese withdrawal.

A U. S. First Corps spokesman said the day's greatest advance—likewise unopposed—was registered by the South Korean Capital division in the far northeast—an 11-mile thrust north of Kilchu.

That's about 75 miles south of the Manchurian border. Elsewhere across the peninsula, the Allied line was 45 to 50 miles south of the touchy boundary. Before the Red counter-attacks last week, the Allies had shoved to the border at one point and 15 miles from it at another.

Defense In Mountains

A. U. S. Eighths Army spokesman reported the Chinese appeared to be establishing a defense line in the mountains. He added that they had taken considerable losses from aerial and artillery fire.

An estimate of some 60,000 Chinese Red troops just across the Yalu river border in Communist Manchuria was revised upward to 300,000 by the spokesman.

General MacArthur's spokesman estimated Thursday 60,000 Chinese and about that many organized North Koreans faced United Nations forces south of the Yalu in Korea.

Communist China radio broadcasts called the Chinese troops "volunteers."

Await Council's Action

The world anxiously awaited the U. N. Security Council's action on a resolution demanding that Red China withdraw its troops. The U. S., Britain and France were among the resolution's sponsors.

The U. S. State department directed that visas be issued to nine Chinese Communist representatives en route to Lake Success for discussions of Red charges of American aggression against Formosa.

However, the U. S. asked that charges of China's intervention in the Korean conflict be taken up Friday—ahead of the Chinese delegation's arrival.

MacArthur's Intelligence spokesman in Tokyo said the Chinese are continuing to cross the boundary in large numbers.

Jury Indicts Puerto Rican

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—A Federal grand jury today indicted Oscar Collazo, 37-year-old Puerto Rican, for murder in connection with the November 1 attempt on President Truman's life.

The charge is based on the killing of Leslie Coffelt, 40, White House guard, when Collazo and Griselio Torresola tried to shoot their way into Blair House, the President's temporary residence.

Torresola was killed in the rain of bullets from guards which felled Collazo with wounds in the chest and shoulder.

Conviction of murder carries the possibility of a death sentence in the District of Columbia.

From the stories of eye-witnesses, there is some evidence that Torresola actually shot Coffelt. But under District of Columbia law when two or more persons engage in a felony and kill some one, all are considered equally liable to charges of murder.

MOOSE PLAN CHANGES

A building permit was issued today by Burgess William G. Weaver to the Moose home, York street. Plans call for alterations to the building, including changing seven windows to glass brick. The estimated cost is placed at $3,500.

TESTIFY TO HEAVY USE OF R.R. CROSSING

A total of 28,555 vehicles and 9,846 pedestrians crossed the Western Maryland railway tracks during the 48-hour period between noon Saturday, October 7, and noon Monday, October 9, according to testimony given by the railway company's engineers at a Pennsylvania Utility Commission hearing held in the court house here this morning.

The hearing was held in connection with the proposal to place a blinker light system on the railroad at the Carlisle street crossing to warn of approaching trains.

The engineers said the company is willing to spend $9,000 to install the lights and $300 per year maintenance costs to keep them running. There will be no cost to the borough or highway department for installation or maintenance of the warning lights.

K. L. Muse, signal and telephone engineer for the Western Maryland, and G. H. Hornbaker, Hagerstown, division engineer, testifying before the PUC examiner said a count made of the traffic across the crossing showing that 9,342 automobiles, 1,082 trucks, 46 buses, 15 motorcycles and 5,173 pedestrians and bicycle riders crossed the tracks between 12 noon October 7 and midnight. The heaviest pedestrian traffic during that Saturday night period was between 7 and 8 o'clock when 808 persons walked across the railroad. During the next hour 620 pedestrians went by and during the four-hour period, from 6 to 10 o'clock, a total of 2,270 pedestrians crossed the railroad at Carlisle street.

The largest number of automobiles to pass during any one hour in the 48 hour period was 728, which passed between 7 and 8 o'clock on Saturday night, October 7. The constant stream of traffic was almost duplicated Sunday, October 8, between 3 and 4 o'clock when 715 cars went by.

Five Accidents There

Traffic from 12:01 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 8, to 11:59 p.m. on that date totaled 8,783 cars, 377 trucks, 43 buses, three motorcycles and 2,416 pedestrians and bicycles. From 12:01 a.m. Monday, October 9, until 11:59 p.m. on that date 7,296 cars, 1,516 trucks, 53 buses and 2,257 pedestrians and bicycles crossed the railway tracks. The largest truck traffic in any one hour was between 10 and 11 a.m. October 7 when 120 trucks went by. During the period from 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., 575 trucks crossed the tracks.

During the last two years there have been five accidents at the crossing the Western Maryland men said. All occurred during the period the watchman is not on duty. The present watchman is there from 7:30 a.m. to 6:15 p.m. each day of the week. With the automatic blinker light there will be 24-hour protection, the engineers said.

During the 48-hour period 16 freight trains crossed the area and there were 28 switching movements by Western Maryland trains.

To Decide On Blinkers

The engineers said with the blinker system to be installed a warning signal will be given only when the trains actually are scheduled to cross Carlisle street, and no signal will be given when the trains are merely switching in the area near the crossing and do not plan to cross.

Attorney Franklin R. Bigham represented the Western Maryland at the hearing. Councilmen Samuel Weiser and Mahlon P. Hartzell represented the borough along with Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit who represented both the borough and county in the hearing.

Testimony given at the hearing will be used by the PUC commissioners in determining their final findings on whether to permit installation of the blinker signal.

He became ill about 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Michael Flynn, Baltimore street, where he had walked from the rectory on West High street, for a visit.

As he became rapidly worse, the doctor was called, and Father Stock was found to have a fever of more than 103 degrees and the heavy congestion. He was removed by ambulance from the Flynn home to the hospital.

This Is Life Under Russians

Berlin, Nov. 10 (AP) — A Soviet sector court sentenced a 20-year-old east Berlin youth today to a year in jail for comparing his goose to the Communist regime.

A policeman testified the youth told him he had a goose "fat like Pieck and cackles like Grotewohl."

(The names referred to Wilhelm Pieck, east Germany's portly Communist president, and Otto Grotewohl, the Russian zone's lean but voluble prime minister.)

CLYDE RANKIN ARMISTICE DAY SPEAKER AT HS

A minute of silent tribute to the members of the armed forces in Korea concluded the talk given this morning by Clyde E. Rankin, deputy adjutant general of Pennsylvania at the high school here.

Rankin was the principal speaker at the annual Armistice Day exercises held by the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion in the auditorium of the local high school before the entire student body.

"On November 11, 1918, the men of America crawled out of the ground into the sunlight and resumed living," Rankin told the students. "They had fought for freedom for their generation. And every generation of Americans since the founding of our country has had that same duty. Today members of your own generation, men 17, 18 and 19 years of age are carrying on the struggle for freedom on the distant shores of Korea.

Wars Fought By Youth

"We pray God that you young men who are in the high schools of our nation will never have to don the uniform of the armed forces and engage in war to keep alive the freedoms that are our heritage.

"But I do not have to remind you that the wars of this nation are fought by its youth. It will be your responsibility unless people in high places are able to solve the problem of obtaining peace.

"No one knows what the future holds in store. But of this all can be certain, that your generation will do its part as did the generations that preceded it."

Paul B. Fox, past commander of the Lentz post introduced the speaker. Jacob M. Sheads, history teacher at Gettysburg high school and a lieutenant colonel in World War II presided. The pledge of allegiance was led by Boy Scout James Coleman and Girl Scout Vicki Maust. The high school choir and band took part in the program, with the band playing a medley of patriotic airs and the "Star Spangled Banner." The choir sang "Prayer for Peace," "This Is My Country" and "The Lord Bless You."

BULLETINS

New Delhi, India, Nov. 10 (AP) — Tibet today was reliably reported to have appealed to the United Nations for aid and intervention against the invading Chinese Communists.

Reliable sources here, who refused to be identified by name said the appeal had been made directly to the U. N. (No word of the Tibetan appeal had been reported from U. N. headquarters in Lake Success early today).

Taipei, Formosa, Nov. 10 (AP) — A typhoon was expected to hit Taipei tonight—barring a sudden change in course. Air and sea transport services were interrupted today. One steamer carrying a cargo of bananas from Japan was forced to return to the North Formosan port of Keelung.

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, forcasting that the full impact of rearmament will hit industry "next spring or summer," said today the government has dropped the idea of controlling production by voluntary means.

The national production authority (NPA), Sawyer told a news conference, will rely chiefly on mandatory orders because voluntary, industry-wide compacts "just won't work."

Paris, Nov. 10 (AP) — A foreign ministry spokesman says a Russian plane is expected to land at Orly field near here today or tomorrow to take French Communist Boss Maurice Thorez to the Soviet Union for medical treatment. Youth Injured In Highway Accident

A 17-year-old Brodbeck R. 1 boy was seriously injured Thursday evening about 6 o'clock when his brother's car, in which he was a passenger, crashed into the rear of an auto parked on the Black Rock road, about one mile east of Hanover.

Glenn L. Meckley was taken to the Hanover hospital, where he was admitted for treatment of rib fractures and possible spine injuries.

His brother, Clitus E. Mickley, Jr., 21, was driving the car which ran into a vehicle operated by G. Howard Danner, 62, of Abbottstown R. 1, state police said.

Police said Danner's car had just passed an intersection when it stopped on the highway. Meckley's vehicle, going in the same direction, could not stop in time to avoid the crash. No estimate of damage was available.

Regret Ill-Advised Decision

GETTYSBURG CAMP NO. 112
Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, U.S.A.

Gettysburg, Pa., November 8, 1950

The Editor, Gettysburg Times,
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir,

The proposed removal of the central plot in Lincoln Square by the Borough Council is certainly a great disappointment to the members of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, who planned to start a fund raising campaign throughout the country to place a suitable bronze memorial to our late great president in the central plot such as the magnificent bronze of the great Emancipator in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C.

As far as the center plot creating a traffic hazard, the mere erection of traffic lights on the four corners of the square would take care of present difficulties. Numerous circles exist in Washington and other cities without adding to the burden of moving traffic.

It is a fact often over looked by many communities, that town after town has sacrificed its shade trees and other so called obstacles to progress, only to learn when it is too late that they have given up everything that has added to the attractiveness of the community. Many such towns today are spending thousands of dollars to restore the quaint obstacles that thoughtless town fathers have destroyed in the name of progress.

We certainly hope that the Borough Council will reconsider their ill-advised decision before any further action is taken.

Sincerely,

Joseph H. Riley, Comm. Paul A. Snyder, Sec'y.
Willis R. Doyle, Sen. V.-Comm.

Spanish War Veterans Oppose Removal Of Lincoln Sq. Plot

Members of the Sergeant William M. Steffy Camp No. 126, United Spanish War Veterans, meeting Thursday evening at the VFW post home on Carlisle street voted unanimously in favor of retention of the center plot in Lincoln Square.

John A. Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer of the organization, said the USWV members particularly opposed removal of the plot because of their hope that a Lincoln statue may eventually be erected in the center of the square. They held that removal of the plot would prevent ever placing a Lincoln monument in Lincoln square.

Newly elected officers of the post were installed. They include Charles T. Zeigler, Gettysburg, commander; John W. Zercher, Hanover, senior vice commander; Harry Legore, Hanover, junior vice commander; Ralph Sandoe, Biglerville, officer of the day; John A. Zimmerman, Gettysburg, adjutant; Samuel Snyder, Littlestown, trustee for three years; Robert E. Tipton, Gettysburg, trustee for two years; Clayton King, Gettysburg, trustee for one year; William Bechtel, Hanover, chaplain; Percy Robinson, Gettysburg R. 5, senior color sergeant; Wilbert Buohl, Hanover, junior color sergeant and Wallace Bell, Fayetteville, officer of the guard.

YOUNG FARMERS OPPOSE CENTER PLOT REMOVAL

The Adams County Young Farmers association went on record Thursday night at a meeting in the Biglerville auditorium as opposing the removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square.

Vice President Alton Good introduced the motion urging Gettysburg borough council to drop its plans to remove the center plot. "Through the years," Good said, "the center plot has become a landmark, something that sets Gettysburg off from other communities. There has been enough standardization in the country without having our county seat join other cities in having nothing but a concrete slab in the center of it."

Chapter To Act

Good added that the Cannonball chapter of the Pennsylvania Young Farmers, one of the units making up the county association, plans to adopt a similar resolution at its meeting next week.

Secretary George Alwine was instructed to write a latter to the president of the Gettysburg town council, H. M. Oyler, setting forth the views of the county Young Farmer on the subject.

Richard C. Lighter, county supervisor of agricultural education, who is adviser to the county Young Farmers group, commended the organization on "stepping outside the usual routine of your organization to discuss the matter of the center plot in Gettysburg. As citizens in a democracy we should be interested in all about us, rather than our own pursuits alone. Since Gettysburg is a place where you as farmers do business, and since it is our county seat, all of us should express our opinions concerning any change that may be proposed for it."

Install Officers

Newly elected officers of the Young Farmers were installed with veterans' agriculture teachers of the county taking the part of the installing of officers.

An executive committee meeting will be held at the court house here December 7 at 8 o'clock at which members to represent the county group at the state convention will be elected. The state Pennsylvania Young Farmers meeting will be held in connection with the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg.

All members of the Young Farmers organizations in the county were urged to attend the Pennsylvania State Farm show activities at Harrisburg in January.

Plans for increased membership were discussed, with all chapters in the county announcing plans to set up membership committees. Members of the four chapters automatically become members of the county organization.

63 BABES BORN HERE IN OCTOBER

Sixty-three births and 19 deaths occurred in the Gettysburg area during the past month, Ralph C. Geiselman, registrar of vital statistics for the area which includes Gettysburg, and Cumberland, Straban, Freedom and Highland townships said today.

During the same month last year, the number was 71 births, and 12 deaths. Despite the decline during the past month, the totals for the first ten months of this year show the number of births to exceed the number during the comparable period a year ago. This year so far there have been 670 births as compared to 643 during the same ten months last year. Deaths in the first ten months this year totalled 151 as compared to 149 for the same period a year ago.

Most of the births and deaths in October occurred in Gettysburg, including 34 male and 27 female births and eight male and seven female deaths. There was one birth, a female, in Freedom township and one death, a male in that township. No births or deaths were recorded from Straban and Highland townships. There was one male birth, one male death and two female deaths in Cumberland township.

Red Tanks And Supply Lines Lambasted By Allied Planes

Seoul, Nov. 10 (AP)—Allied warplanes hit 10 Russian-built tanks today in whacking relentlessly at Chinese Communist forces withdrawing into far North Korea's wooded mountains.

Bombers and jet fighters carrying half-ton bombs smashed at Red supply lines near the south of the Yalu river boundary of Communist Manchuria.

American and Red jet fighters engaged in two flashing chases near the major Red crossing point—the northwest border town of Sinuiju. No losses on either side were reported.

U. S. jets destroyed eight enemy tanks and damaged two in Red territory south and southeast of Sinuiju. Twenty-five trucks and other vehicles were destroyed and seven trucks damaged.

Lull Continues

The puzzling lull in the ground action continued into its fifth day. There was only patrol action and minor skirmishing.

Inland from the east coast, the U. S. Marines observed the 175th anniversary of the corps by rolling onto a plateau to within three miles of the vital Changjin power dam. It was a gain of six miles.

There was no opposition. Abandoned packs indicated the haste of the Chinese withdrawal.

A U. S. First Corps spokesman said the day's greatest advance—likewise unoppcsed—was registered by the South Korean Capital division in the far northeast—an 11-mile thrust north of Kilchu.

That's about 75 miles south of the Manchurian border. Elsewhere across the peninsula, the Allied line was 45 to 50 miles south of the touchy boundary. Before the Red counter-attacks last week, the Allies had shoved to the border at one point and 15 miles from it at another.

Defense In Mountains

A. U. S. Eighths Army spokesman reported the Chinese appeared to be establishing a defense line in the mountains. He added that they had taken considerable losses from aerial and artillery fire.

An estimate of some 60,000 Chinese Red troops just across the Yalu river border in Communist Manchuria was revised upward to 300,000 by the spokesman.

General MacArthur's spokesman estimated Thursday 60,000 Chinese and about that many organized North Koreans faced United Nations forces south of the Yalu in Korea.

Communist China radio broadcasts called the Chinese troops "volunteers."

Await Council's Action

The world anxiously awaited the U. N. Security Council's action on a resolution demanding that Red China withdraw its troops. The U. S., Britain and France were among the resolution's sponsors.

The U. S. State department directed that visas be issued to nine Chinese Communist representatives en route to Lake Success for discussions of Red charges of American aggression against Formosa.

However, the U. S. asked that charges of China's intervention in the Korean conflict be taken up Friday—ahead of the Chinese delegation's arrival.

MacArthur's Intelligence spokesman in Tokyo said the Chinese are continuing to cross the boundary in large numbers.

Jury Indicts Puerto Rican

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—A Federal grand jury today indicted Oscar Collazo, 37-year-old Puerto Rican, for murder in connection with the November 1 attempt on President Truman's life.

The charge is based on the killing of Leslie Coffelt, 40, White House guard, when Collazo and Griselio Torresola tried to shoot their way into Blair House, the President's temporary residence.

Torresola was killed in the rain of bullets from guards which felled Collazo with wounds in the chest and shoulder.

Conviction of murder carries the possibility of a death sentence in the District of Columbia.

From the stories of eye-witnesses, there is some evidence that Torresola actually shot Coffelt. But under District of Columbia law when two or more persons engage in a felony and kill some one, all are considered equally liable to charges of murder.

MOOSE PLAN CHANGES

A building permit was issued today by Burgess William G. Weaver to the Moose home, York street. Plans call for alterations to the building, including changing seven windows to glass brick. The estimated cost is placed at $3,500.

SOME STATES STAND TO GAIN CONGRESSMEN

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—The government has taken its census on the population. As a result of its new figures, some states will gain some congressmen, others will lose some congressmen.

This is the story.

The constitution says every state is entitled to at least one congressman. But whether a state gets more than one congressman—and how many more—depends on the total number of congressmen in relation to total population.

To be sure each state gets the correct number of congressmen—based on population—the constitution says the government shall take a national census every 10 years.

This has been done, starting in 1790. The result of the 1950 census was announced last week.

As the years passed and the population grew the number of congressmen—that is, members of the House of Representatives—also grew. It was decided some limit had to be put on the size of the House. Otherwise, it couldn't do business.

So the House itself in 1910 said there could be no more than 435 congressmen. That figure still stands. There are only 435 today.

Putting this limit on the number of congressmen, while the population grows, means that as time passes those 435 congressmen are representing more and more people.

What The Problem Is

For example, in 1940 the total population was 131,000,000. The 435 congressmen, divided into that total population, meant one congressman for every 301,000.

Now in 1950 the total population has jumped to 150,697,000. Dividing the 435 congressmen into that total means each is now representing 346,000.

So, for each 345,000 of its population, a state is entitled to one congressman. That's the way it should be under present law.

But this will show what the problem is: The last time congressmen were apportioned among the states, according to total population, was after the 1940 census.

And in that year, when each congressman was supposed to represent 301,000 people, California's population was 6,907,387. So California got 23 congressmen, since 301,000 divided into 6,907,387 comes out roughly at 23.

In that same year New York state's population was 13, 479,142. Dividing 301,000 into 13,479,142 shows New York was entitled to 45 congressmen.

States Have Role

But, as mentioned before, the total population now is 150,697,000 and since there are only 435 congressmen, each now should represent 346,000 people instead of 301,000 as in 1940.

While New York's population is greater than California's, the latter's population in the past 10 years has increased at a faster rate than New York's.

California's population now is 10,586,223. New York's is 14,830,192. Since there should now be one congressman to every 346,000 people, California is entitled to 30 congressmen (7 more than in 1940) while New York is entitled to only 43 (2 less than in 1940).

Once a state gets its rightful number of congressmen, the state itself decides how many people each of its congressmen shall represent within a state. It sets up its own congressional districts.

SPEAKERS SHOW HIGH LEVEL OF U.S. POLITICS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP) — The political campaign which closed Tuesday was distinguished for its very high, but very subtle, intellectual tone.

For instance, the phrase—"He's a bum"—appeared more than once, giving a staccato effect to sentences which otherwise seemed ponderous.

You can see the advantage in the repetition of a phrase like that day after day, used by a politician to sum up a rival.

It forms an instant link between the speaker and the voters because there hardly breathes a man who at some time or other:

1. Hasn't known a bum or two and formed opinions of them; or
2. Has himself called some rival —in love, dice or business—a bum, or
3. Hasn't been called a bum by some rival.

So the beautifully simple phrase—"He's a bum"—penetrated immediately to the emotions and imaginations and recollections of the voters.

Other Simple Words Used

Such a phrase has an added utility: It saves an amazing amount of literary wear and tear on the speech writers whenever they can find a place for it.

But, having flexed their mental muscles with such one-syllable color pieces as "He's a bum," the speakers were then able to display their command over much more compligated words that ran up to as many as four syllables, words like:

"Thief, liar, crook, faker, trickster, barbarian nefarious conspirator, little Stalin and hypocrite."

Since this country has assumed world leadership, it may have been a little disquieting for any foreigner who heard the speeches to think that one of the people so described might act elected to high office.

There was no need to be disturbed. Inspite of any notions to the contrary, American politicians, by and large, are an extremely conservative group, as you can see from what follows:

New Ideas Dangerous

They could have reached out for some new-fangled ideas not tested by politicians in previous years. But politicians know from experience that the new is always dangerous. Such a step by itself would have been proof of radical tendencies.

So whole herds of this year's politicians, modestly and conservatively, stuck to the old political stand-bys, giving a kind of familiar touch to all they said.

So this one was "tarred with isolationism," that one was "leading the nation down the road to socialism," this one was "handpicked by wall street" and that one was a "rubber stamp for the administration."

And, geographically, this year's politicians displayed an astonishing range and versatility, giving individual interpretations of what happened at Yalta, laying the blame for Korea, and disclosing in no uncertain way the strategic importance of Formosa, or lack of it.

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP)—Lycoming county on Tuesday's defeated replacing paper ballots with voting machines, unofficial returns on a referendum showed. Voters also defeated a proposed bond issue of $250,000 to finance the purchase of voting machines.

Bellefonte, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP) — The boroughs of Bellefonte and State College both rejected voting machine proposals at Tuesday's election. Each had approved the measures in 1947.

JUDGES JUDGED

Karachi, Nov. 9 (AP)—A young Karachi laundryman guilty of bigamy received "justice" at the hands of elders of his community. They gave him a "trial," tied him up and whipped him. Then the police arrived. The self-appointed judges are now in jail, waiting for justice to take its course.

UNIONS APPEAL AGAINST KLAN ACTS IN SOUTH

Conway, S. C., Nov. 10 (AP)—Leaders of 22 unions have appealed to the Federal government to halt Ku Klux Klan violence in South Carolina's tobacco country.

Union officials in both South Carolina and North Carolina yesterday telegraphed U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath for immediate action to prevent further night-rider disorders.

Their action followed the disclosure by officers that Ku Kluxers had bullwhipped a bed-ridden white farmer and forced his two sons to run a quarter of a mile in their underwear.

Officers said the masked and robed Klansmen forced their way Tuesday night into the home of 52-year-old Rufus Lee, roused him from his sick bed, drove him off in an automobile, and then whipped him.

Lee said one of the mob told him: "You drink too much."

Not Seriously Hurt

Lee's two sons, Hinson, 18, and Coolidge, a 23-year-old war veteran, were made to run from the house in their underclothes, but were not otherwise molested.

The father was painfully but not seriously hurt.

Lee lives near this Horry county seat in the northeastern section of South Caroline, part of the state's rich tobacco belt. A little more than two months ago a policeman wearing a Klansman robe was killed during a Ku Klux raid on a negro night club at nearby Myrtle beach.

Grand Dragon Thomas Hamilton of the Carolinas Klan said at Florence that the robed men who invaded Lee's home "could have been law officers or anyone else," and that he didn't believe the raid was the work of Klansmen.

CARTER GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Bridgeton, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP)—Theodore H. Carter, Jr., today was sentenced to life imprisonment for the strangle-murder of pretty Lorraine Hess.

Carter stood impassively in the courtroom as Cumberland County Judge David L. Horuvitz pronounced sentence.

Defense Counsel William Gallner said that since the sentence was mandatory under the jury's recommendation, he would not comment. However, Gallner later said he hoped persons taking up a collection for an appeal of the sentence would stop. He said if the 18-year-old's parents decided on an appeal, it would be filed under the state's paupers' act.

The girl was found strangled last May 13.

Carter, an 18-year-old factory hand, described as having the mentality of a nine-year-old child, was found guilty November 3 of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of life imprisonment. A jury of seven men and five women deliberated seven and a half hours before bringing in the verdict at the climax of Carter's sensational 11-day trial.

HUNDREDS FLEE SAN BERNARDINO AS FIRE SWEEPS MOUNTAIN AREA

San Bernardino, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP) — Hundreds fled their homes in the darkness today as a fire swept by 50-mile-an-hour winds threatened much of the City's northern residential sector. Firemen said it was almost out after a six-hour fight.

At one point, police reported hundreds of homes burning, while pajama clad residents—many of them women and children—played garden hoses on roofs. But as dawn came, only one home on a hilltop appeared a complete loss. A half-dozen others were badly damaged and spot burns and charred paint showed on many more.

A two-mile strip several blocks wide in places, but largely brushland near the foothills, was blackened.

14 Men Injured

The fire department reported 14 men injured as a result of the flames and the high winds. Most of them suffered facial cuts and eye injuries from flying debris and cinders. All were given emergency treatment and none of the injuries was described as serious.

"Sometimes you couldn't even see the fire, the dust got so bad," one fireman related. And another observed: "I hate to think what would have happened if this thing had got away from us. The whole town might have gone up."

The sand blew in great clouds through the narrow Cajon Pass, which leads through the San Bernardino mountains to the Mojave desert.

Police estimated that nearly 300 persons were evacuated from the region and given refuge in a school. Most of them had time to don street clothes, although a few could be seen in bathrobes.

Evacuate Residents

Police commandeered city buses to evacuate the residents. Everybody was grimy with soot and sand. It got in your eyes and you could feel the grit on your teeth.

Mrs. John Baker, whose home was saved by a wind shift, said her neighborhood was "a roaring inferno . . . the heat was terrific."

One burned home was the $35,000 colonial of Mrs. Russell M. Gray. She said she awoke about 1:30 a.m. and: "I looked out the window and saw the garage ablaze I grabbed Kay (her daughter, 16) and dashed out to the highway. I found firemen and they went back and carried out my 85-year-old mother."

Blame Downed Power Line

The latter, Mrs. Anna Sperling, was treated at a Red Cross emergency center for shock. She was not injured.

The winds swept stinging sands in the faces of some 300 firefighters and carried embers for over a mile. At one point, the fire jumped eight blocks, setting a roof afire. All the city's fire eqiupment, some 30 trucks, plus help from nearby communities of Redlands, Colton and Rialto, ranged along the fire line.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for the period Saturday, November 11, through Wednesday, November 15:

Michigan's Race Is Growing Tighter

Detroit, Nov. 10 (AP) — Michigan's governorship vote race became even more spectacularly close today.

Late adjustments in the count of ballots from Tuesday's election reduced former Gov. Harry F. Kelly's lead over Governor G. Mennen Williams to less than 2,000.

It appeared certain that only the official canvass would decide the winner with a recount then possible.

On the heels of the descovery of a 3,000-vote error in Wayne (Detroit) county's vote, official county tabulations and recounts of unofficial returns brought in more discrepancies.

GOING TO VFW MEET

Things Of The Soil

TIMELY TASKS FOR NOVEMBER

Among lawn, garden, orchard and general farm tasks for the first half of November are:

Plant tulips at once. Tradition holds to Election Day as the proper date. Other so-called Dutch bulbs may be planted even this late, including most of the hardy lilies.

Before inclement weather prevents the work, store a few barrelsful of dry, rich garden or fence row loam in a sheltered place for use in window boxes, seed flats, coldframes, hotbeds, and even outdoor soils for extra early spring planting.

Plant lily-of-the-valley pips or old divided roots now.

Plant black walnuts and shellbark or shag-bark hickorynuts now. Idle fence rows are ideal locations for these nut trees.

Every farmer and suburban resident should lay in a liberal supply of sunflower seed, sorghum cane heads, millet and other grains to permit feeding friendly birds over winter. Daily feeding is necessary. One week of neglect when snow covers the ground may prove fatal to thousands of birds.

Soils and sites may be prepared now for planting grape vines, peach, apple, pear, plum and cherry trees, and all bramble fruits in early March.

If laying hens did not average 12 eggs during October, the owner may wisely investigate flock health and feeding methods to discover the reasons why.

Keeps fumes from gas stoves at a minimum for success with most house plants.

During the latter half of the month the following work should be completed:

Hog butchering should be postponed until fairly low temperatures are certain to aid in proper curing of the meat.

Stir sweet corn soil deeply where ear worms were numerous this past season. The dormant forms are hibernated about 7 to 9 inches deep in the soil where they dropped from the last ear they ravished. Exposure will destroy them.

Delay mulching most ornamentals and perennial fruit plants until the ground is frozen.

Turn the compost heap inside-out and upside-down before bad weather arrives. Of course, late accumulated materials may be added to the new heap.

Gather all dead leaves and other litter from the iris bed and burn them in order to destroy iris borer eggs.

Ridge roses with soil just before freezing weather comes. Be certain no undrained soil pockets remain to invite standing water.

If weather remains mild and the soil workable, spade up roughly beds for planting rhubarb, leaf lettuce, early peas and other vegetables which permit early March planting.

It is not too late to plant a few onions sets for early spring green onions if this task was crowded out last month.

As long as the soil remains firm, lime applications to improve permanent pastures are advisable.

Pork is an excellent food, but emphasis should be placed and kept on the importance of thorough cooking to remove the dangers of trichinosis.

The editor invites all questions readers wish to ask to clear up unsolved lawn, garden and farm problems of the past season.

Mrs. Wilbur Baker is general chairman of the committee in charge with Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. James Strickhouser and Mrs. Lawrence Oyler as co-chairmen.

Special Armistice Rites At Harney

Police Help Trucker Find "Lost" Vehicle

A Washington, Pa., truck driver reported to state police of the Gettysburg substation this morning that he had "lost" his vehicle.

C. L. Jolly, the trucker, said he was enroute from Washington to Red Lion, by way of the turnpike and the Carlisle-Hanover road. Somewhere near Hanover one wheel of his truck struck a bridge.

He left the truck, obtaining a ride into Hanover to seek assistance. When he tried to locate the truck again, he couldn't even find the road on which he left it, police said. They took him to the Hanover airport, where he intended having a plane see if it could "spot" the missing truck.

EDDIE WAITKUS TOP CHOICE AS COMEBACK KING

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—To Eddie Waitkus, skinny first baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, goes the title of Baseball's "Comeback King" of 1950. And it was a story of courage in its rawest form.

The award was not given to Edward Waitkus because he had hit .284 last summer. Or because he was the best fielding first baseman in the league. Rather, it was given because of his determination to win the biggest battle of all: The battle for life.

It was only 17 months ago that Waitkus tottered on the brink of death, critically wounded by a bullet fired by a crazed girl in Chicago. Few thought he would live, much less play baseball again.

Waitkus edged out Johnny Mize of the New York Yankees in the annual Associated Press poll. Of the 368 sports writers and sportscasters who partook in the nationwide poll, 90 placed Waitkus No. 1 on their list. Mize was tabbed top choice on 79 ballots.

The voting:

1.	Eddie Waitkus, Phillies	90
2.	Johnny Mize, Yankees	79
3.	Ewell Blackwell, Reds	53
4.	Johnny Sain, Braves	46
5.	Joe Dimaggio, Yankees	43
6	Dizzy Trout, Tigers	26
6	Sal Maglie, Giants	7
8.	Jim Hearn, Giants	6
9	Jim Konstanty, Phils	5
10	Walt Dropo, Red Sox	2
11	Earl Torgeson, Braves	2
12.	Max Lanier, Cardinals	1
13	Phil Masi, White Sox	1
14.	Richie Ashburn, Phillies	1
15.	Ed Stanky, Giants	1

Albright Seeks First Win Over Bullet Team In Last Home Game Saturday At 2

Gettysburg college has never lost a football game to Albright but unless the Bullets put forth one of their best efforts of the season that record may be smashed when the teams lock horns here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the final home game of the season for the Bullets

Ten games have been played between the schools since the first engagement in 1913 and the Bullets have won six and four have resulted in deadlocks. Last year the Lions played the heavily-favored Bullets to a 13-13 tie.

Eddie Gulian, who starred under "Hen" Bream in basketball and football here in the late 20's has a big, fast team whose record of three wins and four losses belies its true potential strength.

The Lions have won from Moravian 20-12; Adelphia, 45-6, and Lebanon Valley, 27-13. Defeats were received from Temple, 31-6; PMC, 12-7; F. and M., 14-0, and Scranton, 34-13.

Lions Pack Might

Coach Gulian would like nothing better than to upset the dope against his former boss and is certain to have his Red and White outfit keyed to a high pitch for the game

The Bullets will again be forced to yield a weight advantage on both the line and backfield. Floyd Rightmire, former Hanover high ace, who turned in such a fine performance against Gettysburg a year ago, again sparks the Lion attack and to date leads his team in scoring with 27 points. Bill Krohto, co-captain, has tallied 24 points.

With the exception of Dick Thomas, end, the Bream-men are in good physical condition for Saturday's battle. Thomas suffered an ankle injury last week but may be able to play part time.

McCoy On Attack

Announcement was made today by Coach Bream that Bob McCoy, heretofore used strictly on the defense where he has been outstanding, will receive his first taste of offensive duties against the Lions.

Another change may be made in the backfield, the Bullet staff being undecided on Tom Hammond or Bobby Bitner to direct the attack. The remainder of the backfield listed for the offense will include McCoy, Ditty Jones and Tom Faulkner with Vince Rossetti, Russ Hess and Don Young forming the first line of reserves.

11 G'Burg Seniors

There are 11 seniors who will be making their final home appearance. They include: Don Emert and Larry Johnson, ends; Larry Antonik and John Hershberger, tackles; Jim Lentz and Len Nugent, guards; Tom Faulkner, Al Hershberger, Jones, McCoy and Young.

Gettysburg needs a victory Saturday and a follow-up triumph over F. and M. on Thanksgiving Day to finish above the 500 mark At present the Bullets own a record of three wins and four setbacks.

PICK JETHROE AS NATIONAL'S PRIZE ROOKIE

New York Nov. 10 (AP) — Sam Jethroe, fleet-footed centerfielder of the Boston Braves, reigned today as the National league's rookie of the year.

The speedy negro flychaser, who once outraced Olympic Sprinter Barney Ewell, drew 11 of the 23 first place votes cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers association. One writer failed to vote.

Second place went to young Bob Miller, snappy righthander of the Philadelphia Phillies. Miller, who won eight straight games for the Phils before losing, polled five votes, one more than Pittsburgh's classy shortstop, Danny O'Connell.

Bubba Church, another flashy Phillie righthander, placed fourth with two votes. Chicago cub third baseman Bill Serena received one vote.

Jethroe promised the home folk he'd hit .300. He failed by 27 points. But the people of East St Louis have long since forgotten that promise. Jethroe has made up for it in many, many other ways.

For one, his 35 stolen bases led the league. And he pounded out 159 hits, 18 homers and drove across 58 runs. So his .273 batting average doesn't look too bad, after all.

Miller, although hampered by a sore shoulder in late season, bobbed up with a good 11-6 record. He was knocked out by the Yankees in the final game of the world series, but was a poised performer during the season.

The strong-armed O'Connell was called up by Pittsburgh in early July from Indianapolis. He hit .294 in 79 games, and, like Jethroe, was a former Brooklyn product. The Pirates purchased him for $50,000 and players.

Church had an 8-6 record for the Phils, and shows plenty of promise for the future. Serena hit 239 in 127 games for the Cubs.

Nina Warren Is Doing "Splendidly"

Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP) — Nina Warren is "rallying splendidly" from infantile paralysis, Dr. Junius B. Harris reported today.

He is much encouraged because the disease which paralyzed the legs and hips of Gov. Earl Warren's youngest daughter has not spread.

But he warned again that pretty, 17-year-old "Honey Bear" will be considered "in serious danger until Sunday at the earliest." That will be one week after she developed a fever.

Warren emerged from seclusion yesterday, it was the first time since Nina was hospitalized Tuesday—the day he rolled up a 1,000,000-plus majority in winning an unprecedented third term as California governor. He spoke briefly to meetings of doctors and state civil service workers and spent a few hours at his desk.

Some Liquor Money Directed To Research

Seattle, Nov. 10 (AP)—Every time you buy a drink of hard liquor in this state, you contribute a fraction of a cent directly to medical and biological research.

This drink money, $600,000 this year, goes wholly to two schools, the University of Washington and the State College of Washington.

Buying drinks over the bar in Washington was not permitted until two years ago. Then a new law made single-shot drinking legal, and this law directed that all the license fees should go to the two classes of research. The University of Washington gets 60 per cent, because it has the only medical school.

License fees range from $1,000 to $300. Expenses of administration are deducted before the proceeds are delivered to science. Washington is the first state to allocate bar money directly to research.

The Delone Catholic high school jayvees defeated the Hanover high reserves 12-6 on the Hanover gridiron Thursday afternoon. A pass, Mumma to Noel, gave the Squires their winning touchdown in the last 15 seconds of play.

BRUINS, BEARS IN BIG CLASH ON WEST COAST

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP) — Championship standings and Rose bowl chances will be at stake here tomorrow when the undefeated California Bears and the once-beaten University of California at Los Angeles Bruins clash in their all-important coast conference football classic.

It's the "game of the year" for the two powerful rivals.

A capacity crowd of 81,000 is expected to watch the contest.

Traditional rivalry of the keenest sort adds color to the annual encounter. The Bruins were once the "baby brothers" of the Bears. They've grown up long since. Under Henry "Red" Sanders, the former Vanderbilt coach, they have been downright formidable the past two years

California, which goes into action tomorrow with the only unblemished record in or out of the conference, ranked 6th in this week's Associated Press national poll. U.C.L.A., 19th in the poll, has lost to Washington, 20-21, in the league, and 6-14 to Illinois.

Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, who left comparative coaching security after twelve years at Northwestern for a job then known as "a coach's graveyard" at California, has become a "wonder man" here. Since his first team in 1947 lost to Southern California, 14-39, portly Pappy has produced two Rose Bowl clubs and hasn't dropped a conference game. The California football slate as of today numbers 21 consecutive league victories and 31 wins in a row for regular season play. The Bears lost close Rose bowl engagements to Ohio State last New Year's day and to Northwestern, the year before.

Election News Is Scarce In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—Most Pittsburghers know today who won Tuesday's elections—but many in this city without newspapers had to scrounge for the information.

One businessman who still hadn't caught up with all the election news declared: "Here it is two days after election and I still don't have the complete picture. I pick up something from the radio when I'm able to listen. I get other information from friends. But I still don't know who won the New York mayoralty race."

The 40-day shutdown of Pittsburgh's three regular newspapers by a strike of mailing room employes has made news a scarce commodity for 2,000,000 regular readers.

Despite the absence of the morning Post-Gazette and the afternoon Sun-Telegraph and Press, many residents are keeping up with the major news via the radio.

The Mississippi Delta is advancing into the Gulf of Mexico at the rate of 260 feet a year.

Davis Chosen GHS Honorary Captain

Eugene "Soapy" Davis, center on the Gettysburg high school football team, has been elected honorary captain of the Warriors for the current season and will lead the team in its final game of the season tonight at Mechanicsburg.

Davis, a senior, has been one of the stalwarts of the team throughout the season and is considered in many quarters as the leading snapper-back in the South Penn circuit.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR

New York, Nov. 10. (AP)—The suggestion has been made in various quarters that someone in authority should "order" the Army football team to meet Ohio State, Oklahoma or some other mighty rival in the "President's" Cup" or other post-season game. . . Before anyone takes that too seriously, we'de like to point out that army football players, like all other cadets, have to spend the first three weeks of December passing a very difficult series of examinations. . . And there are a few matters in Korea and possibly elsewhere that they may be looking after in a year or so. . . Things-are-tough-everywhere item: Larry Atkins, the Cleveland matchmaker, has been around for a couple of weeks with $60,000 in guarantees for the Cleveland News Christmas Fund boxing show and still hasn't got the main bout set. . . The "Powder Bowl" football idea has spread from Ohio U. to Syracuse, where the co-eds plan a charity game Nov. 17. . . We say the gals oughta stick to the mixing bowl—and frying pan.

THE PRINTS-IPLE SUBJECT

A couple of sports writers recently tried to convince Navy Grid Coach Eddie Erdelatz that the academy's high scholastic standards were responsible for most of his troubles. . . "You require your boys to take physics, chemistry, trigonometry, etc. How can you expect to get those big rough mountain boys?" one asked very logically. . . "Take your own case, Eddie. What did you take at St. Mary's?" . . . . Eddie thought it over very carefully and replied. "I took the morning paper"

SHORTS AND SHELLS

After some 30 years of operation, the National Hockey league finally has undertaken a program to develop competent officials. And Chief Referee Carl Voss points out that none of the five full-time men on this season's staff are former professional players. . . .Two of Louisiana State's outstanding footballers, Kenny Konz and Ed Bullard, played only six-man football in high school. Drumbeater Jim Corbett puns that they've had "sixperience."

Seek Tin Box In Ellis Investigation

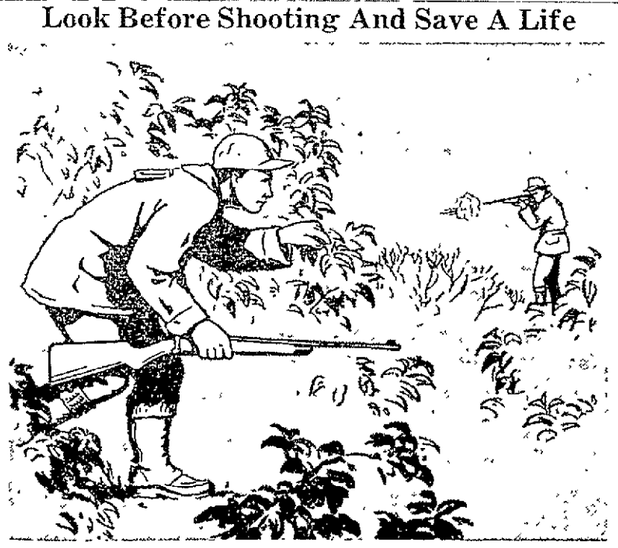

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Federal grand jury investigators continued their search today for a tin box mentioned in a memorandum left by former Police Vice Squad Inspector Craig D Ellis who committed suicide the day he was to have appeared before the jurors.

Ellis' keys led to one discovery the investigators considered important yesterday. With one of the eight keys they opened a compartment in a large safe in Ellis' city hall office and found a sheaf of six typewritten sheets of paper. On the paper was listed what the investigators described as names and addresses of known gamblers in Philadelphia and in Pennsylvania and neighboring states.

Investigators also said they had found "something very important" but declined to identify what it is saying only, "It is a great help to us and must have further investigation."

The word dune was first applied to the great sand mounds along the seacosts of northern France, Holland and Denmark.

Look Before Shooting And Save A Life

Numerous hunting fatalities and injuries could be prevented if all hunters made sure before pulling the trigger, and not shooting at a movement in the brush and learning, too late, that the movement was caused by a human being, not by game. A second look, a second's pause on the part of the hunter pictured above, and the mistake would not have been made. Hunters should wear bright clothing, dissimilar in coloration from surrounding vegetation to distinguish themselves from game.

Democrats Were Outvoted Tuesday

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Republican candidates in the aggregate polled slightly more than 52 per cent of the off-year record total of over 40,700,000 votes cast Tuesday

The figures are based on state totals which are still incomplete in most states. Even so, they show that at least 40,727,213 ballots were cast.

The previous peak in a non-Presidential year was 37,304,380 in 1938. The figure in 1946 was 35,874,568 and in 1942 it was 30,024,927. The Associated Press compilation used the highest vote in each state. In most instances that was either for governor or senator.

Republicans out-voted the Democrats 21,049,778 to 18,684,129—or approximately 52.3 per cent to 46.3. In the 1948 Presidential election, Democrats polled about 49.3 per cent of the total and the Republicans about 45 per cent.

PHONE PICKET LINES REMOVED

New York, Nov. 10 (AP) — Striking telephone equipment workers abruptly withdrew picket lines from some exchanges across the country today in an apparent launching of a new "push button" strike tactic.

Idea of the strategy, as described by union spokesmen, was to employ surprise picketing concentrating lines in some places, not in others, and picketing on some days and not on other days.

The strike, called yesterday by the CIO communications workers of America to enforce demands for a "substantial boost" in wages from the Western Electric company, slowed long distance service because operators refused to cross picket lines. Local service generally was not affected.

The union, which represents 17,000 Western Electric employes, rejected a company offer of about 11 cents an hour additional in wages. Present wages now average $1.55 to $1.62 an hour. The union has not disclosed its specific wage demands. Length of contract also is an issue.

First indication of the start of the new strike technique came when pickets suddenly left telephone buildings in Dallas, Tex., Denver, and Newark and other New Jersey cities. Pickets also failed to show up in Springfield, Mo, and other Missouri communities.

"We don't know what it means," said a southwestern Bell telephone official in Dallas. "We understand they will allow the other workers to be on the job today—and then maybe stop them again tomorrow." He called the plan a "war of nerves."

Although efforts were made to sail around America's northern boundaries from the 16th century on, it was not accomplished until the 19th century.

AL LOPEZ TO PILOT INDIANS

Cleveland, Nov. 10 (AP)—Al Lopez, Indianapolis Indians' manager for the past three years, today was named manager of the Cleveland Indians for the next two seasons.

The salary terms were said to be the highest ever paid a non-playing Cleveland pilot.

Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland Indians, stunned a conference of newsmen who came expecting to hear that Lou Boudreau had been named to a tenth year as manager.

Ryan said the decision on Lopez had been made after the end of the 1950 season, but could not be announced earlier.

Ryan declared: "We have often stated that we would not consider replacing Lou Boudreau unless we were able to obtain the services of a man who we felt mihgt do a better job. In our minds there was only one man who met these requirements and he was not immediately available.

"That man is Al Lopez, the new manager of the Indians, for 1951 and 1952."

EDDIE WAITKUS TOP CHOICE AS COMEBACK KING

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—To Eddie Waitkus, skinny first baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, goes the title of Baseball's "Comeback King" of 1950. And it was a story of courage in its rawest form.

The award was not given to Edward Waitkus because he had hit .284 last summer. Or because he was the best fielding first baseman in the league. Rather, it was given because of his determination to win the biggest battle of all: The battle for life.

It was only 17 months ago that Waitkus tottered on the brink of death, critically wounded by a bullet fired by a crazed girl in Chicago. Few thought he would live, much less play baseball again.

Waitkus edged out Johnny Mize of the New York Yankees in the annual Associated Press poll. Of the 368 sports writers and sportscasters who partook in the nationwide poll, 90 placed Waitkus No. 1 on their list. Mize was tabbed top choice on 79 ballots.

The voting:

1. Eddie Waitkus, Phillies	90
2. Johnny Mize, Yankees	79
3. Ewell Blackwell, Reds	58
4. Johnny Sain, Braves	46
5. Joe Dimaggio, Yankees	43
6. Dizzy Trout, Tigers	26
6.Sal Maglie, Giants	7
8. Jim Hearn, Giants	6
9. Jim Konstanty, Phils	5
10. Walt Dropo, Red Sox	2
11. Earl Torgeson, Braves	2

Albright Seeks First Win Over Bullet Team In Last Home Game Saturday At 2

Gettysburg college has never lost a football game to Albright but unless the Bullets put forth one of their best efforts of the season that record may be smashed when the teams lock horns here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the final home game of the season for the Bullets.

Ten games have been played between the schools since the first engagement in 1913 and the Bullets have won six and four have resulted in deadlocks. Last year the Lions played the heavily-favored Bullets to a 12-13 tie.

Eddie Gulian, who starred under "Hen" Bream in basketball and football here in the late 20's has a big, fast team whose record of three wins and four losses belies its true potential strength.

The Lions have won from Moravian 20-12; Adelphic, 45-6, and Lebanon Valley, 27-13. Defeats were received from Temple, 31-6; PMC, 12-7; F. and M., 14-0, and Scranton, 34-13.

Lions Pack Might

Coach Gulian would like nothing better than to upset the dope against his former boss and is certain to have his Red and White outfit keyed to a high pitch for the game.

The Bullets will again be forced to yield a weight advantage on both the line and backfield. Floyd Rightmire, former Hanover high ace, who turned in such a fine performance against Gettysburg a year ago, again sparks the Lion attack and to date leads his team in scoring with 27 points. Bill Krohto, co-captain, has tallied 24 points.

With the exception of Dick Thomas, end, the Bream-men are in good physical condition for Saturday's battle. Thomas suffered an ankle injury last week but may be able to play part time.

McCoy On Attack

Announcement was made today by Coach Bream that Bob McCoy, heretofore used strictly on the defense where he has been outstanding, will receive his first taste of offensive duties against the Lions.

Another change may be made in the backfield, the Bullet staff being undecided on Tom Hammond or Bobby Bitner to direct the attack. The remainder of the backfield listed for the offense will include McCoy, Ditty Jones and Tom Faulkner with Vince Rossetti, Russ Hess and Don Young forming the first line of reserves.

11 G'Burg Seniors

There are 11 seniors who will be making their final home appearance. They include: Don Emert and Larry Johnson, ends; Larry Antonik and John Hershberger, tackles; Jim Lentz and Len Nugent, guards; Tom Faulkner, Al Hershberger, Jones, McCoy and Young.

Gettysburg needs a victory Saturday and a follow-up triumph over F. and M. on Thanksgiving Day to finish above the .500 mark. At present the Bullets own a record of three wins and four setbacks.

PICK JETHROE AS NATIONAL'S PRIZE ROOKIE

New York Nov. 10 (AP) — Sam Jethroe, fleet-footed centerfielder of the Boston Braves, reigned today as the National league's rookie of the year.

The speedy negro flychaser, who once outraced Olympic Sprinter Barney Ewell, drew 11 of the 23 first place votes cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers asociation. One writer failed to vote.

Second place went to young Bob Miller, snappy righthander of the Philadelphia Phillies. Miller, who won eight straight games for the Phils before losing, polled five votes, one more than Pittsburgh's classy shortstop, Danny O'Connell.

Bubba Church, another flashy Phillie righthander, placed fourth with two votes. Chicago cub third baseman Bill Serena received one vote.

Jethroe promised the home folk he'd hit .300. He failed by 27 points. But the people of East St. Louis have long since forgotten that promise. Jethroe has made up for it in many, many other ways.

For one, his 35 stolen bases led the league. And he pounded out 159 hits, 18 homers and drove across 58 runs. So his .273 batting average doesn't look too bad, after all.

Miller, although hampered by a sore shoulder in late season, bobbed up with a good 11-6 record. He was knocked out by the Yankees in the final game of the world series, but was a poised performer during the season.

The strong-armed O'Connell was called up by Pittsburgh in early July from Indianapolis. He hit .294 in 79 games, and, like Jethroe, was a former Brooklyn product. The Pirates purchased him for $50,000 and players.

Church had an 8-6 record for the Phils, and shows plenty of promise for the future. Serena hit .239 in 127 games for the Cubs.

Nina Warren Is Doing "Splendidly"

Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP) — Nina Warren is "rallying splendidly" from infantile paralysis, Dr. Junius B. Harris reported today.

He is much encouraged because the disease which paralyzed the legs and hips of Gov. Earl Warren's youngest daughter has not spread.

But he warned again that pretty, 17-year-old "Honey Bear" will be considered "in serious danger until Sunday at the earliest." That will be one week after she developed a fever.

Warren emerged from seclusion yesterday, it was the first time since Nina was hospitalized Tuesday—the day he rolled up a 1,000,000-plus majority in winning an unprecedented third term as California governor. He spoke briefly to meetings of doctors and state civil service workers and spent a few hours at his desk.

Some Liquor Money Directed To Research

Seattle, Nov. 10 (AP)—Every time you buy a drink of hard liquor in this state, you contribute a fraction of a cent directly to medical and biological research.

This drink money, $600,000 this year, goes wholly to two schools, the University of Washington and the State College of Washington.

Buying drinks over the bar in Washington was not permitted until two years ago. Then a new law made single-shot drinking legal, and this law directed that all the license fees should go to the two classes of research. The University of Washington gets 60 per cent, because it has the only medical school.

License fees range from $1,000 to $300. Expenses of administration are deducted before the proceeds are delivered to science. Washington is the first state to allocate bar money directly to research.

BRUINS, BEARS IN BIG CLASH ON WEST COAST

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP) — Championship standings and Rose bowl chances will be at stake here tomorrow when the undefeated California Bears and the once-beaten University of California at Los Angeles Bruins clash in their all-important coast conference football classic.

It's the "game of the year" for the two powerful rivals.

A capacity crowd of 81,000 is expected to watch the contest.

Traditional rivalry of the keenest sort adds color to the annual encounter. The Bruins were once the "baby brothers" of the Bears. They've grown up long since. Under Henry "Red" Sanders, the former Vanderbilt coach, they have been downright formidable the past two years.

California, which goes into action tomorrow with the only unblemished record in or out of the conference, ranked 6th in this week's Associated Press national poll. U.C.L.A., 19th in the poll, has lost to Washington, 20-21, in the league, and 6-14 to Illinois.

Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, who left comparative coaching security after twelve years at Northwestern for a job then known as "a coach's graveyard" at California, has become a "wonder man" here. Since his first team in 1947 lost to Southern California, 14-39, portly Pappy has produced two Rose Bowl clubs and hasn't dropped a conference game. The California football slate as of today numbers 21 consecutive league victories and 31 wins in a row for regular season play. The Bears lost close Rose bowl engagements to Ohio State last New Year's day and to Northwestern, the year before.

Election News Is Scarce In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—Most Pittsburghers know today who won Tuesday's elections—but many in this city without newspapers had to scrounge for the information.

One businessman who still hadn't caught up with all the election news declared: "Here it is two days after election and I still don't have the complete picture. I pick up something from the radio when I'm able to listen. I get other information from friends. But I still don't know who won the New York mayoralty race."

The 40-day shutdown of Pittsburgh's three regular newspapers by a strike of mailing room employes has made news a scarce commodity for 2,000,000 regular readers.

Despite the absence of the morning Post-Gazette and the afternoon Sun-Telegraph and Press, many residents are keeping up with the major news via the radio.

Davis Chosen GHS Honorary Captain

Eugene "Soapy" Davis, center on the Gettysburg high school football team, has been elected honorary captain of the Warriors for the current season and will lead the team in its final game of the season tonight at Mechanicsburg.

Davis, a senior, has been one of the stalwarts of the team throughout the season and is considered in many quarters as the leading snapper-back in the South Penn circuit.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR

New York, Nov. 10. (AP)—The suggestion has been made in various quarters that someone in authority should "order" the Army football team to meet Ohio State, Oklahoma or some other mighty rival in the "President's Cup" or other post-season game. . . Before anyone takes that too seriously, we'de like to point out that army football players, like all other cadets, have to spend the first three weeks of December passing a very difficult series of examinations. . . And there are a few matters in Korea and possibly elsewhere that they may be looking after in a year or so. . . Things-are-tough-everywhere item: Larry Atkins, the Cleveland matchmaker, has been around for a couple of weeks with $60,000 in guarantees for the Cleveland News Christmas Fund boxing show and still hasn't got the main bout set. . . The "Powder Bowl" football idea has spread from Ohio U. to Syracuse, where the co-eds plan a charity game Nov. 17. . . We say the gals oughta stick to the mixing bowl—and frying pan.

THE PRINTS-IPLE SUBJECT

A couple of sports writers recently tried to convince Navy Grid Coach Eddie Erdelatz that the academy's high scholastic standards were responsible for most of his troubles. . . "You require your boys to take physics, chemistry, trigonometry, etc. How can you expect to get those big rough mountain boys?" one asked very logically. . . "Take your own case, Eddie. What did you take at St. Mary's?" . . . . Eddie thought it over very carefully and replied: "I took the morning paper."

SHORTS AND SHELLS

After some 30 years of operation, the National Hockey league finally has undertaken a program to develop competent officials. And Chief Referee Carl Voss points out that none of the five full-time men on this season's staff are former professional players. . . Two of Louisiana State's outstanding footballers, Kenny Konz and Ed Bullard, played only six-man football in high school. Drumbeater Jim Corbett puns that they've had "sixperience."

Seek Tin Box In Ellis Investigation

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Federal grand jury investigators continued their search today for a tin box mentioned in a memorandum left by former Police Vice Squad Inspector Craig D. Ellis who committed suicide the day he was to have appeared before the jurors.

Ellis' keys led to one discovery the investigators considered important yesterday. With one of the eight keys they opened a compartment in a large safe in Ellis' city hall office and found a sheaf of six typewritten sheets of paper. On the paper was listed what the investigators described as names and addresses of known gamblers in Philadelphia and in Pennsylvania and neighboring states.

Investigators also said they had found "something very important" but declined to identify what it is saying only, "It is a great help to us and must have further investigation."

Democrats Were Outvoted Tuesday

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Republican candidates in the aggregate polled slightly more than 52 per cent of the off-year record total of over 40,700,000 votes cast Tuesday.

The figures are based on state totals which are still incomplete in most states. Even so, they show that at least 40,727,213 ballots were cast.

The previous peak in a non-Presidential year was 37,304,380 in 1938. The figure in 1946 was 35,874,568 and in 1942 it was 30,024,927. The Associated Press compilation used the highest vote in each state. In most instances that was either for governor or senator.

Republicans out-voted the Democrats 21,049,778 to 18,684,129—or approximately 52.3 per cent to 46.3. In the 1948 Presidential election, Democrats polled about 49.3 per cent of the total and the Republicans about 45 per cent.

PHONE PICKET LINES REMOVED

New York, Nov. 10 (AP) — Striking telephone equipment workers abruptly withdrew picket lines from some exchanges across the country today in an apparent launching of a new "push button" strike tactic.

Idea of the strategy, as described by union spokesmen, was to employ surprise picketing concentrating lines in some places, not in others, and picketing on some days and not on other days.

The strike, called yesterday by the CIO communications workers of America to enforce demands for a "substantial boost" in wages from the Western Electric company, slowed long distance service because operators refused to cross picket lines. Local service generally was not affected.

The union, which represents 17,000 Western Electric employes, rejected a company offer of about 11 cents an hour additional in wages. Present wages now average $1.55 to $1.62 an hour. The union has not disclosed its specific wage demands. Length of contract also is an issue.

First indication of the start of the new strike technique came when pickets suddenly left telephone buildings in Dallas, Tex., Denver, and Newark and other New Jersey cities. Pickets also failed to show up in Springfield, Mo., and other Missouri communities.

"We don't know what it means," said a southwestern Bell telephone official in Dallas. "We understand they will allow the other workers to be on the job today—and then maybe stop them again tomorrow." He called the plan a "war of nerves."

Although efforts were made to sail around America's northern boundaries from the 16th century on, it was not accomplished until the 19th century.

AL LOPEZ TO PILOT INDIANS

Cleveland, Nov. 10 (AP)—Al Lopez, Indianapolis Indians' manager for the past three years, today was named manager of the Cleveland Indians for the next two seasons.

The salary terms were said to be the highest ever paid a non-playing Cleveland pilot.

Ellis Ryan, president of the Cleveland Indians, stunned a conference of newsmen who came expecting to hear that Lou Boudreau had been named to a tenth year as manager.

Ryan said the decision on Lopez had been made after the end of the 1950 season, but could not be announced earlier.

Ryan declared: "We have often stated that we would not consider replacing Lou Boudreau unless we were able to obtain the services of a man who we felt mihgt do a better job. In our minds there was only one man who met these requirements and he was not immediately available.

"That man is Al Lopez, the new manager of the Indians, for 1951 and 1952."

Look Before Shooting And Save A Life

Numerous hunting fatalities and injuries could be prevented if all hunters made sure before pulling the trigger, and not shooting at a movement in the brush and learning, too late, that the movement was caused by a human being, not by game. A second look, a second's pause on the part of the hunter pictured above, and the mistake would not have been made. Hunters should wear bright clothing, dissimilar in coloration from surrounding vegetation to distinguish themselves from game.

UNIONS APPEAL AGAINST KLAN ACTS IN SOUTH

Conway, S. C., Nov. 10 (AP)—Leaders of 22 unions have appealed to the Federal government to halt Ku Klux Klan violence in South Carolina's tobacco country.

Union officials in both South Carolina and North Carolina yesterday telegraphed U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath for immediate action to prevent further night-rider disorders.

Their action followed the disclosure by officers that Ku Kluxers had bullwhipped a bed-ridden white farmer and forced his two sons to run a quarter of a mile in their underwear.

Officers said the masked and robed Klansmen forced their way Tuesday night into the home of 52-year-old Rufus Lee, roused him from his sick bed, drove him off in an automobile, and then whipped him.

Lee said one of the mob told him: "You drink too much."

Not Seriously Hurt

Lee's two sons, Hinson, 18, and Coolidge, a 23-year-old war veteran, were made to run from the house in their underclothes, but were not otherwise molested.

The father was painfully but not seriously hurt.

Lee lives near this Horry county seat in the northeastern section of South Caroline, part of the state's rich tobacco belt. A little more than two months ago a policeman wearing a Klansman robe was killed during a Ku Klux raid on a negro night club at nearby Myrtle beach.

Grand Dragon Thomas Hamilton of the Carolinas Klan said at Florence that the robed men who invaded Lee's home "could have been law officers or anyone else," and that he didn't believe the raid was the work of Klansmen.

CARTER GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Bridgeton, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP)—Theodore H. Carter, Jr., today was sentenced to life imprisonment for the strangle-murder of pretty Lorraine Hess.

Carter stood impassively in the courtroom as Cumberland County Judge David L. Horuvitz pronounced sentence.

Defense Counsel William Gallner said that since the sentence was mandatory under the jury's recommendation, he would not comment. However, Gallner later said he hoped persons taking up a collection for an appeal of the sentence would stop. He said if the 18-year-old's parents decided on an appeal, it would be filed under the state's paupers' act.

The girl was found strangled last May 13.

Carter, an 18-year-old factory hand, described as having the mentality of a nine-year-old child, was found guilty November 3 of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of life imprisonment. A jury of seven men and five women deliberated seven and a half hours before bringing in the verdict at the climax of Carter's sensational 11-day trial.

HUNDREDS FLEE SAN BERNARDINO AS FIRE SWEEPS MOUNTAIN AREA

San Bernardino, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP) — Hundreds fled their homes in the darkness today as a fire swept by 50-mile-an-hour winds threatened much of the City's northern residential sector. Firemen said it was almost out after a six-hour fight.

At one point, police reported hundreds of homes burning, while pajama clad residents—many of them women and children—played garden hoses on roofs. But as dawn came, only one home on a hilltop appeared a complete loss. A half-dozen others were badly damaged and spot burns and charred paint showed on many more.

A two-mile strip several blocks wide in places, but largely brushland near the foothills, was blackened.

14 Men Injured

The fire department reported 14 men injured as a result of the flames and the high winds. Most of them suffered facial cuts and eye injuries from flying debris and cinders. All were given emergency treatment and none of the injuries was described as serious.

"Sometimes you couldn't even see the fire, the dust got so bad," one fireman related. And another observed, "I hate to think what would have happened if this thing had got away from us. The whole town might have gone up."

The sand blew in great clouds through the narrow Cajon Pass, which leads through the San Bernardino mountains to the Mojave desert.

Police estimated that nearly 300 persons were evacuated from the region and given refuge in a school. Most of them had time to don street clothes, although a few could be seen in bathrobes.

Evacuate Residents

Police commandeered city buses to evacuate the residents. Everybody was grimy with soot and sand. It got in your eyes and you could feel the grit on your teeth.

Mrs. John Baker, whose home was saved by a wind shift, said her neighborhood was "a roaring inferno . . . . the heat was terrific."

One burned home was the $35,000 colonial of Mrs. Russell M. Gray. She said she awoke about 1:30 a.m. and: "I looked out the window and saw the garage ablaze I grabbed Kay (her daughter, 16) and dashed out to the highway. I found firemen and they went back and carried out my 85-year-old mother."

Blame Downed Power Line

The latter, Mrs Anna Sperling, was treated at a Red Cross emergency center for shock. She was not injured.

The winds swept stinging sands in the faces of some 300 firefighters and carried embers for over a mile. At one point, the fire jumped eight blocks, setting a roof afire. All the city's fire equipment, some 30 trucks, plus help from nearby communities of Redlands, Colton and Rialto, ranged along the fire line.

Michigan's Race Is Growing Tighter

Detroit, Nov. 10 (AP) — Michigan's governorship vote race became ever more spectacularly close today.

Late adjustments in the count of ballots from Tuesday's election reduced former Gov. Harry F. Kelly's lead over Governor G. Mennen Williams to less than 2,000.

It appeared certain that only the official canvass would decide the winner with a recount then possible.

On the heels of the descovery of a 3,000-vote error in Wayne (Detroit) county's vote, official county tabulations and recounts of unofficial returns brought in more discrepancies.

Things Of The Soil

TIMELY TASKS FOR NOVEMBER

Among lawn, garden, orchard and general farm tasks for the first half of November are:

Plant tulips at once. Tradition holds to Election Day as the proper date. Other so-called Dutch bulbs may be planted even this late, including most of the hardy lilies.

Before inclement weather prevents the work, store a few barrelsful of dry, rich garden or fence row loam in a sheltered place for use in window boxes, seed flats, coldframes, hotbeds, and even outdoor soils for extra early spring planting.

Plant lily-of-the-valley pips or old divided roots now.

Plant black walnuts and shellbark or shag-bark hickorynuts now. Idle fence rows are ideal locations for these nut trees.

Every farmer and suburban resident should lay in a liberal supply of sunflower seed, sorghum cane heads, millet and other grains to permit feeding friendly birds over winter. Daily feeding is necessary. One week of neglect when snow covers the ground may prove fatal to thousands of birds.

Soils and sites may be prepared now for planting grape vines, peach, apple, pear, plum and cherry trees, and all bramble fruits in early March.

If laying hens did not average 12 eggs during October, the owner may wisely investigate flock health and feeding methods to discover the reasons why.

Keeps fumes from gas stoves at a minimum for success with most house plants.

During the latter half of the month the following work should be completed:

Hog butchering should be postponed until fairly low temperatures are certain to aid in proper curing of the meat.

Stir sweet corn soil deeply where ear worms were numerous this past season. The dormant forms are hibernated about 7 to 9 inches deep in the soil where they dropped from the last ear they ravished. Exposure will destroy them.

Delay mulching most ornamentals and perennial fruit plants until the ground is frozen.

Turn the compost heap inside-out and upside-down before bad weather arrives. Of course, late accumulated materials may be added to the new heap.

Gather all dead leaves and other litter from the iris bed and burn them in order to destroy iris borer eggs.

Ridge roses with soil just before freezing weather comes. Be certain no undrained soil pockets remain to invite standing water.

If weather remains mild and the soil workable, spade up roughly beds for planting rhubarb, leaf lettuce, early peas and other vegetables which permit early March planting.

It is not too late to plant a few onions sets for early spring green onions if this task was crowded out last month.

As long as the soil remains firm, lime applications to improve permanent pastures are advisable.

Pork is an excellent food, but emphasis should be placed and kept on the importance of thorough cooking to remove the dangers of trichinosis.

The editor invites all questions readers wish to ask to clear up unsolved lawn, garden and farm problems of the past season.

Police Help Trucker Find "Lost" Vehicle

A Washington, Pa., truck driver reported to state police of the Gettysburg substation this morning that he had "lost" his vehicle.

C. L. Jolly, the trucker, said he was enroute from Washington to Red Lion, by way of the turnpike and the Carlisle-Hanover road. Somewhere near Hanover one wheel of his truck struck a bridge.

He left the truck, obtaining a ride into Hanover to seek assistance. When he tried to locate the truck again, he couldn't even find the road on which he left it, police said. They took him to the Hanover airport, where he intended having a plane see if it could "spot" the missing truck.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LISTENER

I like to be with people. I like to hear them express themselves. We are never too old to learn something new. In a group of people, however, I keep my eye on the listener. He is a marked man for me. Usually he is the thinker in the group—with an invisible secretary, writing down expressions worth remembering.

The listener and thinker are usually synonymous. I once sat in a hotel room where a brilliant group of noted men sat and talked, at a national political Presidential convention. All were famous and outstanding figures. The talk was interesting and enlightening, but there was one in the group who just sat and listened. I watched him. He was a great editorial writer. I wondered why he said nothing. Perhaps he was simply gathering material.

The listener is always ahead for he never loses any of his thoughts, discarding those of others which he deems unworthy to store in his own mind. Not until he feels that he can add something that will clarify a discussion does he talk at all, and not always then!

Listeners are often misjudged as those having no ideas of their own. Often has the listener turned his silence into profit. I recall an example of this. A careless talker in a group casually mentioned the fact of a certain deal that might be made. One listener said nothing but hastily went and completed the transaction, which netted him a fine return.

It was said of Marshall Field, founder of the great Field fortune, that he was a man of few words—a good listener and a rare judge of men. Listeners are forever turning to good account all that they hear. They are men and women of action. The smartest person is not the one who asks the most questions, but the one who listens most carefully to the answers given!

Rodin's great bronze creation, "The Thinker," has always intrigued me. I have stood before it many times, and wondered if Rodin didn't convey the idea that his thinker was listening as well as thinking?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Going, Going—Gone!"

PARAKEET

He hops on my head and tousles my hair,
A parakeet feathered as blue as the sky.
I know that he wonders while standing up there
What here at my typewriter doing am I.

He nips at my ear and he pecks at my cheek
Still watching me closely with little eyes bright.
As if thinking: If only you'll teach me to speak
It may be that later you'll teach me to write.

Oh, bright little fellow, so carefree and gay!
My room is your world, but I fear if you knew
The sad world outside and the hate men display
Perhaps you'd not love me as much as you do.

If I taught you to speak and to read and to write
You would learn of my world and its terrible state
And the wrongs that men do, and you'd fear that I might
Continue man's training and teach you to hate.

GOP MAY SEEK NEW COMMITTEE FOR RED PROBE

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Encouraged by the election results to press for a new Communists-in-government inquiry, some Republicans may try in January to get up a permanent Senate committee on Un-American Activities.

The investigating unit they have in mind would be patterned, so far as scope is concerned, after the existing House committee.

There is some talk, too, that a joint Congressional committee ought to be set up incorporating the House group and a Senate delegation.

Those ideas could come up for discussion when a group of Senate Republicans gets together at the Capitol November 27 to talk over the gains their party made at the polls and to plan ahead.

That is the day the "lame duck" session of the expiring 81st Congress will meet, unless President Truman calls the lawmakers back earlier. The President reportedly will decide when he returns from a short cruise this week-end.

Taft Suggestion

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio), who scored a smashing re-election triumph, said yesterday he had suggested the meeting so the new Republican Senators could meet their colleagues and talk things over.

Taft, chairman of the GOP Senate Policy committee, said the meeting would not be a formal conference of all Republican Senators. His views on setting up an Un-American Activities committee are not known.

From a numerical standpoint Senate Republicans would need the help of some but probably not many Democrats to create such a Senate committee.

In the new, 82nd Congress which convenes January 3 the Republicans will have 47 seats as against the Democrats' slim majority, with 49. The present split is 54 Democrats and 42 Republicans.

A recount in a close Connecticut contest could make the new division 48 seats for each party, with Vice President Barkley casting the deciding vote for the Democrats in such a case.

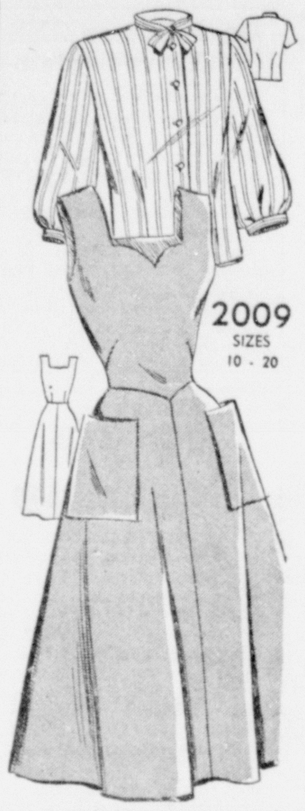

Until neighboring communities voted to join it in May 1950 Annapolis was less than a square mile in area.

STOCKS UNDECIDED

New York, Nov. 10 (AP) — Stock traders showed considerable indecision on the subject of price in today's market. A handful of issues, some affected by specific news developments, took comparatively wide swings. Run-of-the-mill shares, though, moved along a narrow price route. Gains outnumbered losses but by a modest margin. Most changes were limited to less than $1 a share.

FELLOWSHIP WITH OTHER CHRISTIANS

Acts 11:11-18; Philippians 2:15

Memory selection: Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others —Phil. II:4-6

The Lord Jesus brought a new factor into the relationships of men —the gospel of love. This element as taught in the New Testament was not entirely new, but it surpassed anything that had been known and practiced before Christ's coming. As His disciples caught the spirit of their Master and endeavored to live and teach what He taught them, they encountered several barriers. One of them was prejudice. Prejudices of race, nationality and religion were exceptionally strong. It was to be expected that such firmly planted barriers would not immediately yield to the new thought and life. And it is quite evident that we have not entirely succeeded after these many centuries in having and applying "the mind that was in Christ Jesus."

Fellowship

Fellowship is not mere association. It implies the presence of concern and goodwill for the welfare of others. Paul put it this way: "Let each of you look not only to his own interest, but also to the interests of others." Now, the basis of such an attitude is the kind of love Jesus came to plant into the heart of man. Not anything that is occasionally in evidence, but an element that is abiding and knows no limits. Jesus set no bounds to His love for man. He had fellowship with the worst: the social outcast, the flagrant sinner, the bitterest opponent, the most hopeless prospect for His cause. It is this quality of soul and its persistency that constitutes the foundation of true fellowship—a love that will not let one go.

How About Gentiles?

When Christ's gospel was preached by the disciples and others, there came into being a group among them who believed and insisted that Gentiles must first adopt Jewish rites before they could be received into the church. This controversy came to a head when the leaders at Jerusalem learned that Peter had baptized, and so received into the Christian fellowship, certain Gentiles. Called before the Council at Jerusalem he told them of the experience at Joppa with Cornelius and others, and silenced his accusers. It was, in a way, a test case and Peter won the case for the Gentiles. But it required a long time before non-Jewish people were accepted freely and in good spirit into the Christian fellowship.

This calls to mind controversies

The Most Important People on Earth

Boys and girls with a great heritage and a glorious future! They're the most important people on earth . . . for they still have time to accomplish so many things we left undone.

We have given them our love and all the material blessings our means would allow. And we have given them America . .

But one thing more we must provide, if they are to live up to the opportunities they face. We must give them a vital religious faith. We must give it to them in larger measure than we have possessed it ourselves.

Religious Education is a task for our churches. But the foundation of religious interest must be laid in the home. Sincere parents, setting an example of Christian worship and life, can lay the surest foundation for the Church's character-building program for our boys and girls.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STOCKS UNDECIDED

New York, Nov. 10 (AP) — Stock traders showed considerable indecision on the subject of price in today's market. A handful of issues, some affected by specific news developments, took comparatively wide swings. Run-of-the-mill shares, though, moved along a narrow price route. Gains outnumbered losses but by a modest margin. Most changes were limited to less than $1 a share.

FELLOWSHIP WITH OTHER CHRISTIANS

Acts 11:11-18; Philippians 2:15

Memory selection: Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others. —Phil. II:4-6

The Lord Jesus brought a new factor into the relationships of men —the gospel of love. This element as taught in the New Testament was not entirely new, but it surpassed anything that had been known and practiced before Christ's coming. As His disciples caught the spirit of their Master and endeavored to live and teach what He taught them, they encountered several barriers. One of them was prejudice. Prejudices of race, nationality and religion were exceptionally strong. It was to be expected that such firmly planted barriers would not immediately yield to the new thought and life. And it is quite evident that we have not entirely succeeded after these many centuries in having and applying "the mind that was in Christ Jesus."

Fellowship

Fellowship is not mere association. It implies the presence of concern and goodwill for the welfare of others. Paul put it this way: "Let each of you look not only to his own interest, but also to the interests of others." Now, the basis of such an attitude is the kind of love Jesus came to plant into the heart of man. Not anything that is occasionally in evidence, but an element that is abiding and knows no limits. Jesus set no bounds to His love for man. He had fellowship with the worst: the social outcast, the flagrant sinner, the bitterest opponent, the most hopeless prospect for His cause. It is this quality of soul and its persistency that constitutes the foundation of true fellowship—a love that will not let one go.

How About Gentiles?

When Christ's gospel was preached by the disciples and others, there came into being a group among them who believed and insisted that Gentiles must first adopt Jewish rites before they could be received into the church. This controversy came to a head when the leaders at Jerusalem learned that Peter had baptized, and so received into the Christian fellowship, certain Gentiles. Called before the Council at Jerusalem he told them of the experience at Joppa with Cornelius and others, and silenced his accusers. It was, in a way, a test case and Peter won the case for the Gentiles. But it required a long time before non-Jewish people were accepted freely and in good spirit into the Christian fellowship.

This calls to mind controversies

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LISTENER

I like to be with people I like to hear them express themselves. We are never too old to learn something new In a group of people, however, I keep my eye on the listener He is a marked man to me Usually he is the thinker in the group—with an invisible secretary, writing down expressions worth remembering

The listener and thinker are usually synonymous I once sat in a hotel room where a brilliant group of noted men sat and talked, at a national political Presidential convention All were famous and outstanding figures The talk was interesting and enlightening, but there was one in the group who just sat and listened I watched him He was a great editorial writer I wondered why he said nothing Perhaps he was simply gathering material.

The listener is always ahead for he never loses any of his thoughts, discarding those of others which he deems unworthy to store in his own mind Not until he feels that he can add something that will clarify a discussion does he talk at all and not always then!

Listeners are often misjudged as those having no ideas of their own Often has the listener turned his silence into profit I recall an example of this A careless talker in a group casually mentioned the fact of a certain deal that might be made One listener said nothing but hastily went and completed the transaction which netted him a fine return

It was said of Marshall Field, founder of the great Field fortune, that he was a man of few words—a good listener and a rare judge of men Listeners are forever turning to good account all that they hear They are men and women of action The smartest person is not the one who asks the most questions, but the one who listens most carefully to the answers given!

Rodin's great bronze creation, "The Thinker," has always intrigued me I have stood before it many times, and wondered if Rodin didn't convey the idea that his thinker was listening as well as thinking?

Tomorrow Mr Adams will talk on the subject, 'Going, Going—Gone!'

PARAKEET

He hops on my head and tousles my hair,
A parakeet feathered as blue as the sky.
I know that he wonders while standing up there
What here at my typewriter doing am I.

He nips at my ear and he pecks at my cheek
Still watching me closely with little eyes bright
As if thinking: If only you'll teach me to speak
It may be that later you'll teach me to write.

Oh, bright little fellow, so carefree and gay!
My room is your world, but I fear if you knew
The sad world outside and the hate men display
Perhaps you'd not love me as much as you do

If I taught you to speak and to read and to write
You would learn of my world and its terrible state
And the wrongs that men do, and you'd fear that I might
Continue man's training and teach you to hate

GOP MAY SEEK NEW COMMITTEE FOR RED PROBE

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Encouraged by the election results to press for a new Communists-in government inquiry some Republicans may try in January to get up a permanent Senate committee on Un-American Activities

The investigating unit they have in mind would be patterned, so far as scope is concerned after the existing House committee

There is some talk, too, that a joint Congressional committee ought to be set up incorporating the House group and a Senate delegation

Those ideas could come up for discussion when a group of Senate Republicans gets together at the Capitol November 27 to talk over the gains their party made at the polls and to plan ahead

That is the day the lame duck session of the expiring 81st Congress will meet, unless President Truman calls the lawmakers back earlier The President reportedly will decide when he returns from a short cruise this week-end

Taft Suggestion

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who scored a smashing re-election triumph said yesterday he had suggested the meeting so the new Republican Senators could meet their colleagues and talk things over

Taft, chairman of the GOP Senate Policy committee, said the meeting would not be a formal conference of all Republican Senators His views on setting up an Un-American Activities committee are not known

From a numerical standpoint Senate Republicans would need the help of some out probably not many Democrats to create such a Senate committee

In the new, 82nd Congress which convenes January 3 the Republicans will have 47 seats as against the Democrats' slim majority, with 49 The present split is 54 Democrats and 42 Republicans

A recount in a close Connecticut contest could make the new division 48 seats for each party, with Vice President Barkley casting the deciding vote for the Democrats in such a case

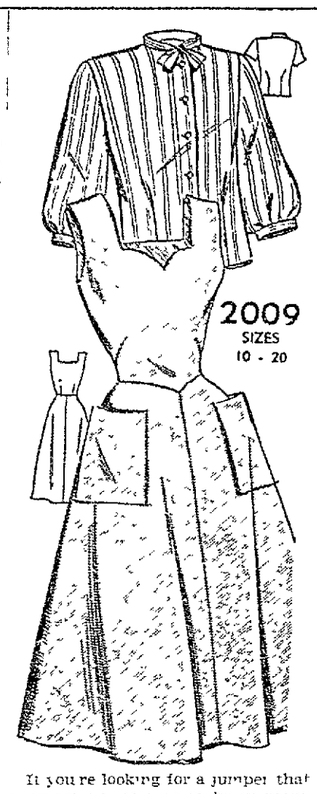

Until neighboring communities voted to join it in May 1950 Annapolis was less than a square mile in area

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LISTENER

I like to be with people. I like to hear them express themselves. We are never too old to learn something new. In a group of people, however, I keep my eye on the listener. He is a marked man for me. Usually he is the thinker in the group—with an invisible secretary, writing down expressions worth remembering.

The listener and thinker are usually synonymous. I once sat in a hotel room where a brilliant group of noted men sat and talked, at a national political Presidential convention. All were famous and outstanding figures. The talk was interesting and enlightening, but there was one in the group who just sat and listened. I watched him. He was a great editorial writer. I wondered why he said nothing. Perhaps he was simply gathering material.

The listener is always ahead for he never loses any of his thoughts, discarding those of others which he deems unworthy to store in his own mind. Not until he feels that he can add something that will clarify a discussion does he talk at all, and not always then!

Listeners are often misjudged as those having no ideas of their own. Often has the listener turned his silence into profit. I recall an example of this. A careless talker in a group casually mentioned the fact of a certain deal that might be made. One listener said nothing but hastily went and completed the transaction, which netted him a fine return.

It was said of Marshall Field, founder of the great Field fortune, that he was a man of few words—a good listener and a rare judge of men. Listeners are forever turning to good account all that they hear. They are men and women of action. The smartest person is not the one who asks the most questions, but the one who listens most carefully to the answers given!

Rodin's great bronze creation, "The Thinker," has always intrigued me. I have stood before it many times, and wondered if Rodin didn't convey the idea that his thinker was listening as well as thinking?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Going, Going—Gone!"

PARAKEET

He hops on my head and tousles my hair,
A parakeet feathered as blue as the sky.
I know that he wonders while standing up there
What here at my typewriter doing am I.

He nips at my ear and he pecks at my cheek
Still watching me closely with little eyes bright.
As if thinking: If only you'll teach me to speak
It may be that later you'll teach me to write.

Oh, bright little fellow, so carefree and gay!
My room is your world, but I fear if you knew
The sad world outside and the hate men display
Perhaps you'd not love me as much as you do.

If I taught you to speak and to read and to write
You would learn of my world and its terrible state

STOCKS UNDECIDED

New York, Nov. 10 (AP) — Stock traders showed considerable indecision on the subject of price m today's market. A handful of issues, some affected by specific news developments, took comparatively wide swings. Run-of-the-mill shares, though, moved along a narrow price route. Gains outnumbered losses but by a modest margin. Most changes were limited to less than $1 a share.

FELLOWSHIP WITH OTHER CHRISTIANS

Acts 11:11-18; Philippians 2:15

Memory selection: Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others —Phil. II:4-6

The Lord Jesus brought a new factor into the relationships of men —the gospel of love. This element as taught in the New Testament was not entirely new, but it surpassed anything that had been known and practiced before Christ's coming. As His disciples caught the spirit of their Master and endeavored to live and teach what He taught them, they encountered several barriers. One of them was prejudice. Prejudices of race, nationality and religion were exceptionally strong. It was to be expected that such firmly planted barriers would not immediately yield to the new thought and life. And it is quite evident that we have not entirely succeeded after these many centuries in having and applying "the mind that was in Christ Jesus."

Fellowship

Fellowship is not mere association. It implies the presence of concern and goodwill for the welfare of others. Paul put it this way: "Let each of you look not only to his own interest, but also to the interests of others." Now, the basis of such an attitude is the kind of love Jesus came to plant in the heart of man. Not anything that is occasionally in evidence, but an element that is abiding and knows no limits. Jesus set no bounds to His love for man. He had fellowship with the worst: the social outcast, the flagrant sinner, the bitterest opponent, the most hopeless prospect for His cause. It is this quality of soul and its persistency that constitutes the foundation of true fellowship—a love that will not let one go.

How About Gentiles?

When Christ's gospel was preached by the disciples and others, there came into being a group among them who believed and insisted that Gentiles must first adopt Jewish rites before they could be received into the church. This controversy came to a head when the leaders at Jerusalem learned that Peter had baptized, and so received into the Christian fellowship, certain Gentiles. Called before the Council at Jerusalem he told them of the experience at Joppa with Cornelius and others, and silenced his accusers. It was, in a way, a test case and Peter won the case for the Gentiles. But it required a long time before non-Jewish people were accepted freely and in good spirit into the Christian fellowship.

This calls to mind controversies

The Most Important People on Earth

Boys and girls with a great heritage and a glorious future! They're the most important people on earth . . . for they still have time to accomplish so many things we left undone.

We have given them our love and all the material blessings our means would allow. And we have given them America . .

But one thing more we must provide, if they are to live up to the opportunities they face. We must give them a vital religious faith. We must give it to them in larger measure than we have possessed it ourselves.

Religious Education is a task for our churches. But the foundation of religious interest must be laid in the home. Sincere parents, setting an example of Christian worship and life, can lay the surest foundation for the Church's character-building program for our boys and girls.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are. (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STOCKS UNDECIDED

New York, Nov. 10 (AP) — Stock traders showed considerable indecision on the subject of price in today's market. A handful of issues, some affected by specific news developments, took comparatively wide swings. Run-of-the-mill shares, though, moved along a narrow price route. Gains outnumbered losses but by a modest margin. Most changes were limited to less than $1 a share.

FELLOWSHIP WITH OTHER CHRISTIANS

Acts II:11-18; Philippians 2:15

Memory selection: Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others. —Phil. II:4-6

The Lord Jesus brought a new factor into the relationships of men —the gospel of love. This element as taught in the New Testament was not entirely new, but it surpassed anything that had been known and practiced before Christ's coming. As His disciples caught the spirit of their Master and endeavored to live and teach what He taught them, they encountered several barriers. One of them was prejudice. Prejudices of race, nationality and religion were exceptionally strong. It was to be expected that such firmly planted barriers would not immediately yield to the new thought and life. And it is quite evident that we have not entirely succeeded after these many centuries in having and applying "the mind that was in Christ Jesus."

Fellowship

Fellowship is not mere association. It implies the presence of concern and goodwill for the welfare of others. Paul put it this way: "Let each of you look not only to his own interest, but also to the interests of others." Now, the basis of such an attitude is the kind of love Jesus came to plant into the heart of man. Not anything that is occasionally in evidence, but an element that is abiding and knows no limits. Jesus set no bounds to His love for man. He had fellowship with the worst: the social outcast, the flagrant sinner, the bitterest opponent, the most hopeless prospect for His cause. It is this quality of soul and its persistency that constitutes the foundation of true fellowship—a love that will not let one go.

How About Gentiles?

When Christ's gospel was preached by the disciples and others, there came into being a group among them who believed and insisted that Gentiles must first adopt Jewish rites before they could be received into the church. This controversy came to a head when the leaders at Jerusalem learned that Peter had baptized, and so received into the Christian fellowship, certain Gentiles. Called before the Council at Jerusalem he told them of the experience at Joppa with Cornelius and others, and silenced his accusers. It was, in a way, a test case and Peter won the case for the Gentiles. But it required a long time before non-Jewish people were accepted freely and in good spirit into the Christian fellowship.

This calls to mind controversies

The Most Important People on Earth

Boys and girls with a great heritage and a glorious future! They're the most important people on earth . . . for they still have time to accomplish so many things we left undone.

We have given them our love and all the material blessings our means would allow. And we have given them America . .

But one thing more we must provide, if they are to live up to the opportunities they face. We must give them a vital religious faith. We must give it to them in larger measure than we have possessed it ourselves.

Religious Education is a task for our churches. But the foundation of religious interest must be laid in the home. Sincere parents, setting an example of Christian worship and life, can lay the surest foundation for the Church's character-building program for our boys and girls.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LISTENER

I like to be with people. I like to hear them express themselves. We are never too old to learn something new. In a group of people, however, I keep my eye on the listener. He is a marked man for me. Usually he is the thinker in the group—with an invisible secretary, writing down expressions worth remembering.

The listener and thinker are usually synonymous. I once sat in a hotel room where a brilliant group of noted men sat and talked, at a national political Presidential convention. All were famous and outstanding figures. The talk was interesting and enlightening, but there was one in the group who just sat and listened. I watched him. He was a great editorial writer. I wondered why he said nothing. Perhaps he was simply gathering material.

The listener is always ahead for he never loses any of his thoughts, discarding those of others which he deems unworthy to store in his own mind. Not until he feels that he can add something that will clarify a discussion does he talk at all, and not always then!

Listeners are often misjudged as those having no ideas of their own. Often has the listener turned his silence into profit. I recall an example of this. A careless talker in a group casually mentioned the fact of a certain deal that might be made. One listener said nothing but hastily went and completed the transaction, which netted him a fine return.

It was said of Marshall Field, founder of the great Field fortune, that he was a man of few words—a good listener and a rare judge of men. Listeners are forever turning to good account all that they hear. They are men and women of action. The smartest person is not the one who asks the most questions, but the one who listens most carefully to the answers given!

Rodin's great bronze creation, "The Thinker," has always intrigued me. I have stood before it many times, and wondered if Rodin didn't convey the idea that his thinker was listening as well as thinking?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Going, Going—Gone!"

Just Folks

PARAKEET

He hops on my head and tousles my hair,
A parakeet feathered as blue as the sky.
I know that he wonders while standing up there
What here at my typewriter doing am I.

He nips at my ear and he pecks at my cheek
Still watching me closely with little eyes bright.
As if thinking: If only you'll teach me to speak
It may be that later you'll teach me to write.

Oh, bright little fellow, so carefree and gay!
My room is your world, but I fear if you knew
The sad world outside and the hate men display
Perhaps you'd not love me as much as you do.

If I taught you to speak and to read and to write
You would learn of my world and its terrible state
And the wrongs that men do, and you'd fear that I might
Continue man's training and teach you to hate.

GOP MAY SEEK NEW COMMITTEE FOR RED PROBE

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Encouraged by the election results to press for a new Communists-in-government inquiry, some Republicans may try in January to get up a permanent Senate committee on Un-American Activities.

The investigating unit they have in mind would be patterned, so far as scope is concerned, after the existing House committee.

There is some talk, too, that a joint Congressional committee ought to be set up incorporating the House group and a Senate delegation.

Those ideas could come up for discussion when a group of Senate Republicans gets together at the Capitol November 27 to talk over the gains their party made at the polls and to plan ahead.

That is the day the "lame duck" session of the expiring 81st Congress will meet, unless President Truman calls the lawmakers back earlier. The President reportedly will decide when he returns from a short cruise this week-end.

Taft Suggestion

Senator Taft (R.-Ohio), who scored a smashing re-election triumph, said yesterday he had suggested the meeting so the new Republican Senators could meet their colleagues and talk things over.

Taft, chairman of the GOP Senate Policy committee, said the meeting would not be a formal conference of all Republican Senators. His views on setting up an Un-American Activities committee are not known.

From a numerical standpoint Senate Republicans would need the help of some but probably not many Democrats to create such a Senate committee.

In the new, 82nd Congress which convenes January 3 the Republicans will have 47 seats as against the Democrats' slim majority, with 49. The present split is 54 Democrats and 42 Republicans.

A recount in a close Connecticut contest could make the new division 48 seats for each party, with Vice President Barkley casting the deciding vote for the Democrats in such a case.

Until neighboring communities voted to join it in May 1950 Annapolis was less than a square mile in area.

COMING CONFAB MAY EASE WAR STRAIN IN EAST

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

There is a gleam of hope for easement of the Korean strife in the disclosure that nine Chinese Communists are coming to Lake Success to discuss the Korean and Formosan issues with the United Nations.

This is the outgrowth of an invitation from the Security Council to the Red regime in Peiping to confer regarding the Communist charge that the United States had invaded Formosa. A natural corollary is that projected discussion of the much more dangerous Korean question.

As things stand, Korea is a potential breeding ground for another world war. With Chinese Red troops—estimated by General MacArthur's headquarters at 60,000—already intervening in North Korea, and United Nations forces surging closer to the Korean-Manchurian frontier, the situation has become highly explosive.

One somewhat encouraging aspect of this situation is that the Chinese government has persisted in calling these Chinese troops "volunteers." This is taken to mean that the Peiping regime hasn't wanted to become officially identified with this dangerous intervention.

If the Korean war dragged out for years, that would put a heavy economic and military strain on the United States and other U.N. nations involved.

However, there has been no indication that Russia intends to push China far enough to precipitate a major conflict. Russia doesn't want another world war—at least not now. And China certainly hasn't any desire to get involved deeply with the Western powers.

That is the background of the forthcoming conference of the Chinese Communists with the United Nations. Coincident with this we get from an American staff officer at Eighth Army headquarters in Korea the intriguing statement that Chinese Communist forces may be avoiding battle with U. N. troops pending high level diplomatic moves which would affect the course of the war.

Apropos of this unusual situation there also is this point to consider; the problem might become impossible of solution if the Chinese were forced into a position in which they couldn't back up any further without losing face. As a major power of Asia, China can't afford to lose face—a highly important consideration among Asiatic peoples.

Sunday School Lesson

among church people that occur occasionally in the modern church. Not many years ago a serious split developed in a denomination in the middle west on theological questions. The disagreements have been settled but while they lasted much bad feeling was expressed.

Forward Together

Progress in fellowship among the churches has been made but there is need for further advancement. Lack of understanding and cooperation among like-minded Christian bodies of believers is one reason why the church of today is not more effective in preaching the redeeming Gospel of Christ. And related to preaching are numerous interests of the churches which can be carried forward more successfully together than separately. Certainly, essential differences of faith must be respected, but there is always opportunity for such union of effort as will promote the cause of Christ.

The present prospect for closer fellowship among many Christian bodies and their agencies is heartening. Not only is this in conformity with the mind of Christ, but the seriousness of the times calls for it. "We are not divided, all one body we" can be sung honestly by millions of Christians when only the essentials of Christianity are considered.

Practice at Home

In the home, the home church and the neighborhood fellowship must be practiced if we are to be effective in our wider relationships. And that is not easy. Paul constantly reminded his converts of this. Note his eloquent plea to the Philippians: "Be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind." He was well aware of the quarrels among his church members. He knew of cliques and divisions. Homes and churches are nurseries for Christian virtues, which in the aggregate make for broader fellowship among races and nations. To love one's neighbor as oneself, and to think of all mankind as neighbors, is clearly the aim of Christian brotherhood.

Questions on the S. S. Lesson

1. What barriers faced early Christians?
2. What does fellowship imply?
3. Who pled a test case?
4. What is needed today?
5. What plea of Paul is apropos to the times?

Answers

1. Prejudice of race, nationality, religion.
2. Loving concern for others.
3. Peter, for the Gentile Christians.
4. Unity in fellowship.
5. Be of one accord, of one mind.

Home Folk Will Visit Guardsmen

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Nov. 10 (AP)—"Operation homefolk" gets under way tonight and by tomorrow noon will be battling homesickness. The commanders are confident of complete victory.

"Operations homefolk" will bring 450 relatives and sweethearts from Scranton, Pa., to Camp Atterbury to visit the 109th Infantry Regiment, Pennsylvania National Guard, now in federal service. Scranton is the hometown of the 109th, which started active duty here last September.

The Scranton folk will travel the 850 miles to Indianapolis overnight by special train and will be taken by bus to Camp Atterbury, 40 miles away, to start their two-day visit.

Homesickness of the young guardsmen is not the only thing the project, dubbed "operation homefolk" by the 109th, hopes to overcome. "We hope having the homefolk here will help dispel any misunderstanding the parents may have about their boys," said Col. Fred R. Evans, 109th commanding officer.

Hollywood, Nov. 10 (AP) — Danny Kaye has been offered a record $20,000 a week for 12 weeks at the London palladium as part of the 1951 festival of Britain, Kaye's manager, Ed Dukoff, disclosed last night.

The $240,000 (85,000 pounds) offer was made by Harry Foster, representing the management of the palladium, where Kaye broke all attendance records in 1949.

American Wins Literary Prize

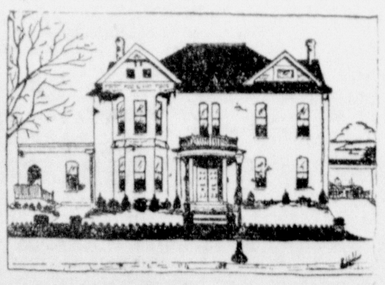

Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 10 (AP)—American Novelist William Faulkner and British Philosopher Bertrand Russell were awarded Nobel literary prizes today for 1949 and 1950.

The Swedish Academy elected Faulkner, of Oxford, Miss., as winner of the 1949 prize—withheld last fall. This year's prize was given to 78-year-old Russell, internationally famed philosopher, mathematician and moralist.

The winners were selected from among more than 50 candidates. They will receive the awards from the new Swedish king, Gustaf VI, when the Nobel Foundation celebrates its 50th anniversary December 10.

This year's prize money totals 164,303 krona ($31,715), while the sum frozen last year totaled 156,229 krona ($30,007).

This was the first time two full literary prizes had been awarded simultaneously.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Fresh receipts were swollen by approximately 800 head that had been held from earlier in the week. Four-day supply was slightly smaller than last week's movement for the same period but showed an increase over the corresponding time in 1949. Salable receipts were made up largely of steers which included the equivalent of 17 loads of slaughter steers and 9 loads of stock cattle. Trading on most slaughter classes was slow, due largely to higher asking prices but stock cattle continued to meet a brisk trade at higher prices.

Slaughter steers mostly steady compared with earlier in the week. Couple of choice yearling steers, fed for the Eastern National Livestock Show, $34 and $35.50, but most of medium and good slaughter steers, $27—29.50. Small lot and odd head, $30. Scattered small lots of common and medium steers, $23.50—26.25.

Common and medium slaughter heifers in odd lots formed the bulk of the run in that division and sales steady. Bulk of common and medium, $20—26. Odd head low-good, $27.

Beef cows moved slowly but canners and cutters met a fairly active trade. There was little net change in the selling level for beef offerings but others frequently 25—50c. higher. Good beef cows, $22—23.50. Most of common and medium, $19.50—22. Bulk of canners and cutters, $15.50—18.50; odd cutters to $19 and shelly canners sometimes below $14.

Bulls moved sculeward slowly but showed little net price change in most cases. Good sausage bulls, $24.50—25.35, although the top quotation was still considered to be around $26. Common and medium, $20.50—23.75. Odd cutter and common lightweight dairy-bred bulls, $18—19.50.

Fairly active dealings noted in stocker and feeder department and prices again advanced 25—50c. in most cases. Few sales of mostly good grade 323-488 pound stock calves, $28—32.75, including mixed steers and heifers, 440 pounds, $30.75. Most of the medium and good stocker and feeder steers, $25.50—28, including several loads of 1,000-1,220 pound 2-way steers to feeder buyers, $26—27. A sprinkling of inferior and common calves and stockers, $21—24.

CALVES—Higher asking prices regarded trading in opening rounds in the calf department but later dealings fairly active with prices generally around $1 higher than Wednesday. Good and choice vealers and slaughter calves about 250 pounds and less scarce, $35—39, top $39. All weights of common and medium calves, $25—34; culls, $16—24.

HOGS—A very uneven trade was noted in the hog division. Trading fairly active and prices for the most part steady with yesterday. Good and choice 170-220 pound barrows and gilts, $20—20.50, latter price top; 220-240 pounds, $19.25—20; 240-260 pounds, $18.75—19.50; 260-300 pounds, $18.50—19.25; over 300 pounds, $19 down depending on weight and condition; 120-140 pounds, $17.75—18.25; 140-160 pounds, $18.75—19.25; 160-170 pounds, $19.50—20. Sows under 400 pounds, $17.75—18.25, but odd choice around 325 pounds and lighter to $18.50; wood 400-450 pounds, $16.50—17; heavyweights downward from $16 according to condition and weight. Stags $3 under price of same weight sows and garbage-fed hogs discounted $2 from price of same weight grain-feds.

SHEEP—Supplies of good and choice lambs were insufficient to satisfy the demand but sales steady compared with earlier in the week. Few small lots of good and choice 82-91 pound, $23—26, latter price top. Odd head of common lambs, $23—25. Ewes also scarce and steady; few good and choice, $11—12; odd common and medium, $8—9.

Refrigerator Fumes Gave Workman "Jag"

Passaic, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP)—A refrigerator repairman told a judge yesterday he wasn't drunk—it was cooling fluid fumes he inhaled while working in a tavern that made him that way.

And what's more, Joseph Gardella said, he was treated for methyl chloride intoxication before. A doctor backed him up and added that sniffing the stuff could lead to a jag similar to liquor.

Magistrate Morris Pashman said he'd think it over before deciding the case.

GUILD SERVICE PLANNED NOV. 17

The Women's Guilds of the five churches of the East Berlin Evangelical and Reformed charge, Rev. Alton M. Leister, minister and Morgan S. Haney, assistant minister, will hold their annual joint thank offering service Friday evening, November 17, at 7:30 o'clock in Mt. Olivet church, near Bermudian.

Mrs. William Gibbs, Jr., president of the Mt. Olivet guild will be the leader for the service. There will be a speaker and special music will be presented by representatives of the choirs of the five churches.

Other guilds and presidents included in the service are Emmanuel church, Hampton, Mrs. Charles Wolfe; St. John's church, New Chester, Mrs. George Raffensperger; St. Paul's church, Red Run, Mrs. Claude Brown, and Zwingli church, East Berlin, Mrs. Leroy Eisenhart.

Choir Will Sing

The Junior choir of Emmanuel church, Hampton, Mrs. Fred Ecker and Mrs. Thurman Inskip, counselors, will make its first public appearance at the public worship service in the church Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Rev. Leister will deliver the sermon. The next meeting of the choir will be on Monday at 4 p.m. with Janet Chronister, chairman for the month, presiding.

Sunday school officers, consistory and trustees of St. John's church, New Chester, and other interested parties met recently to discuss plans for remodeling the church balcony into a room for the children's department. The plans will be submitted to the congregation for final vote, probably on November 19.

The congregations and church school of St. Paul's Union church at Red Run near East Berlin will conduct their annual homecoming service on Sunday afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

Plan Turkey Supper

The church membership instruction classes of Mt. Olivet church near Bermudian, and of St. Paul's church at Red Run will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The church membership classes of Emmanuel church in Hampton and Zwingli church, East Berlin, will meet Saturday, November 18, at 1.30 p.m.

The Willing Workers church school class of St. John's church, New Chester, will hold a special class meeting this evening in the parish hall, preparatory to the annual public turkey supper to be served on Saturday, November 18.

All churches of the East Berlin Evangelical and Reformed charge are now beginning the use of their own privately printed worship folders and bulletins containing the reports and news of activities each week and the order for worship for the day.

The union thank offering service of the Women's Missionary society of St. Paul's church at Red Run will be held Sunday, November 19, in the church at 10:15 a.m. with Morgan S. Haney, assistant minister, in charge of the service and Mrs. Alton M. Leister of East Berlin presenting the address.

Says HS Students Might Do Better

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP) — A Columbia university official said here today he sometimes thinks the nation would be better off in the hands of high school students.

The remark was made in an address by Joseph M. Murphy, director of the Columbia Scholastic Press association and assistant director of admissions at Columbia university. He was speaking to the opening session of the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press association convention, meeting today and tomorrow.

Murphy told the 1,500 student delegates from public, private and parochial schools that school newspapers are training the professional newsmen of tomorrow and forming a critical reading public.

He added: "After comparing ideals and objectives emphasized in school government and other school affairs with the deplorable conditions we read about in the daily press I sometimes feel that the country would be safer in the hands of 16-year-olds than in the hands of 60-year-olds."

Only about 70 per cent of eggs placed in commercial incubators hatch out, according to the U.S. Agriculture Department.

Says HS Students Might Do Better

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP) — A Columbia university official said here today he sometimes thinks the nation would be better off in the hands of high school students.

The remark was made in an address by Joseph M. Murphy, director of the Columbia Scholastic Press association and assistant director of admissions at Columbia university. He was speaking to the opening session of the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press association convention, meeting today and tomorrow.

Murphy told the 1,500 student delegates from public, private and parochial schools that school newspapers are training the professional newsmen of tomorrow and forming a critical reading public.

He added: "After comparing ideals and objectives emphasized in school government and other school affairs with the deplorable conditions we read about in the daily press I sometimes feel that the country would be safer in the hands of 16-year-olds than in the hands of 60-year-olds."

COMING CONFAB MAY EASE WAR STRAIN IN EAST

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

There is a gleam of hope for easement of the Korean strife in the disclosure that nine Chinese Communists are coming to Lake Success to discuss the Korean and Formosan issues with the United Nations.

This is the outgrowth of an invitation from the Security Council to the Red regime in Peiping to confer regarding the Communist charge that the United States had invaded Formosa. A natural corollary is that projected discussion of the much more dangerous Korean question.

As things stand, Korea is a potential breeding ground for another world war. With Chinese Red troops—estimated by General MacArthur's headquarters at 60,000—already intervening in North Korea, and United Nations forces surging closer to the Korean-Manchurian frontier, the situation has become highly explosive.

One somewhat encouraging aspect of this situation is that the Chinese government has persisted in calling these Chinese troops "volunteers." This is taken to mean that the Peiping regime hasn't wanted to become officially identified with this dangerous intervention.

If the Korean war dragged out for years, that would put a heavy economic and military strain on the United States and other U.N. nations involved.

However, there has been no indication that Russia intends to push China far enough to precipitate a major conflict. Russia doesn't want another world war—at least not now. And China certainly hasn't any desire to get involved deeply with the Western powers.

That is the background of the fortacoming conference of the Chinese Communists with the United Nations. Coincident with this we get from an American staff officer at Eighth Army headquarters in Korea the intriguing statement that Chinese Communist forces may be avoiding battle with U. N. troops pending high level diplomatic moves which would affect the course of the war.

Apropos of this unusual situation there also is this point to consider; the problem might become impossible of solution if the Chinese were forced into a position in which they couldn't back up any further without losing face. As a major power of Asia, China can't afford to lose face—a highly important consideration among Asiatic peoples.

Sunday School Lesson

among church people that occur occasionally in the modern church. Not many years ago a serious split developed in a denomination in the middle west on theological questions. The disagreements have been settled but while they lasted much bad feeling was expressed.

Forward Together

Progress in fellowship among the churches has been made but there is need for further advancement. Lack of understanding and cooperation among like-minded Christian bodies of believers is one reason why the church of today is not more effective in preaching the redeeming Gospel of Christ. And related to preaching are numerous interests of the churches which can be carried forward more successfully together than separately. Certainly, essential differences of faith must be respected, but there is always opportunity for such union of effort as will promote the cause of Christ.

The present prospect for closer fellowship among many Christian bodies and their agencies is heartening. Not only is this in conformity with the mind of Christ, but the seriousness of the times calls for it. "We are not divided, all one body we" can be sung honestly by millions of Christians when only the essentials of Christianity are considered.

Practice at Home

In the home, the home church and the neighborhood fellowship must be practiced if we are to be effective in our wider relationships. And that is not easy. Paul constantly reminded his converts of this. Note his eloquent plea to the Philippians: "Be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind." He was well aware of the quarrels among his church members. He knew of cliques and divisions. Homes and churches are nurseries for Christian virtues, which in the aggregate make for broader fellowship among races and nations. To love one's neighbor as oneself, and to think of all mankind as neighbors, is clearly the aim of Christian brotherhood.

Questions on the S. S. Lesson

1. What barriers faced early Christians?
2. What does fellowship imply?
3. Who pled a test case?
4. What is needed today?
5. What plea of Paul is apropos to the times?

Answers

1. Prejudice of race, nationality, religion.
2. Loving concern for others.
3. Peter, for the Gentile Christians.
4. Unity in fellowship.
5. Be of one accord, of one mind.

Home Folk Will Visit Guardsmen

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Nov. 10 (AP)—"Operation homefolk" gets under way tonight and by tomorrow noon will be battling homesickness. The commanders are confident of complete victory.

"Operations homefolk" will bring 450 relatives and sweethearts from Scranton, Pa., to Camp Atterbury to visit the 109th Infantry Regiment, Pennsylvania National Guard, now in federal service. Scranton is the hometown of the 109th, which started active duty here last September.

The Scranton folk will travel the 850 miles to Indianapolis overnight by special train and will be taken by bus to Camp Atterbury, 40 miles away, to start their two-day visit.

Homesickness of the young guardsmen is not the only thing the project, dubbed "operation homefolk" by the 109th, hopes to overcome. "We hope having the homefolk here will help dispel any misunderstanding the parents may have about their boys," said Col. Fred R. Evans, 109th commanding officer.

Hollywood, Nov. 10 (AP) — Danny Kaye has been offered a record $20,000 a week for 12 weeks at the London palladium as part of the 1951 festival of Britain, Kaye's manager, Ed Dukoff, disclosed last night.

The $240,000 (85,000 pounds) offer was made by Harry Foster, representing the management of the palladium, where Kaye broke all attendance records in 1949.

American Wins Literary Prize

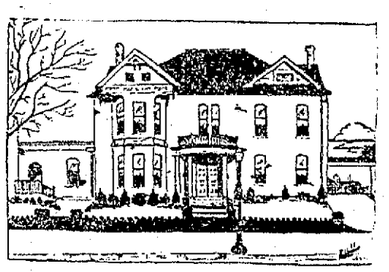

Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 10 (AP)—American Novelist William Faulkner and British Philosopher Bertrand Russell were awarded Nobel literary prizes today for 1949 and 1950.

The Swedish Academy elected Faulkner, of Oxford, Miss., as winner of the 1949 prize—withheld last fall. This year's prize was given to 78-year-old Russell, internationally famed philosopher, mathematician and moralist.

The winners were selected from among more than 50 candidates. They will receive the awards from the new Swedish king, Gustaf VI, when the Nobel Foundation celebrates its 50th anniversary December 10.

This year's prize money totals 164,303 krona ($31,715), while the sum frozen last year totaled 156,229 krona ($30,007).

This was the first time two full literary prizes had been awarded simultaneously.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Fresh receipts were swollen by approximately 600 head that had been held from earlier in the week. Four-day supply was slightly smaller than last week's movement for the same period but showed an increase over the corresponding time in 1949. Salable receipts were made up largely of steers which included the equivalent of 17 loads of slaughter steers and 9 loads of stock cattle. Trading on most slaughter classes was slow, due largely to higher asking prices but stock cattle continued to meet a brisk trade at higher prices.

Slaughter steers mostly steady compared with earlier in the week. Couple of choice yearling steers, fed for the Eastern National Livestock Show, $34 and $35.50, but most of medium and good slaughter steers, $27—28.50. Small lot and odd head, $30. Scattered small lots of common and medium steers, $23.50—26.25.

Common and medium slaughter heifers in odd lots formed the bulk of the run in that division and sales steady. Bulk of common and medium, $20—26. Odd head low-good, $27.

Beef cows moved slowly but canners and cutters met a fairly active trade. There was little net change in the selling level for beef offerings but others frequently 25—50c. higher. Good beef cows, $22—23.50. Most of common and medium, $19.50—22. Bulk of canners and cutters, $15.50—18.50, odd cutters to $19 and shelly canners sometimes below $14.

Bulls moved sealeward slowly but showed little net price change in most cases. Good sausage bulls, $24.50—25.25, although the top quotation was still considered to be around $26. Common and medium, $20.50—23.75. Odd cutter and common lightweight dairy-bred bulls, $18—19.50.

Fairly active dealings noted in stocker and feeder department and prices again advanced 25—50c. in most cases. Few sales of mostly good grade 923-488 pound stock calves, $28—32.75, including mixed steers and heifers, 449 pounds, $29.75. Most of the medium and good stocker and feeder steers, $25.50—28, including several loads of 1,009-1,220 pound 2-way steers to feeder buyers, $26—27. A sprinkling of inferior and common calves and stockers, $21—24.

CALVES—Higher asking prices regarded trading in opening rounds in the calf department but later dealings fairly active with prices generally around $1 higher than Wednesday. Good and choice vealers and slaughter calves about 250 pounds and less scarce, $35—39, top $39. All weights of common and medium calves, $25—34; culls, $16—24.

HOGS—A very uneven trade was noted in the hog division. Trading fairly active and prices for the most part steady with yesterday. Good and choice 170-220 pound barrows and gilts, $20—20.50, latter price top; 220-240 pounds, $19.25—20; 240-260 pounds, $18.75—19.50; 260-280 pounds, $18.50—19.25; over 300 pounds, $19 down depending on weight and condition; 120-140 pounds, $17.75—18.25; 140-160 pounds, $18.25—18.75; 160-170 pounds, $19.50—20. Sows under 400 pounds, $17.75—18.25, but odd choice around 325 pounds and lighter to $18.50; good 400-450 pounds, $16.50—17; heavy weights downward from $16 according to condition and weight. Stags $3 under price of same weight sows and gruelings—fed boars discounted $2 from price of same weight grain-feds.

SHEEP—Supplies of good and choice lambs were insufficient to satisfy the demand but sales steady compared with earlier in the week. Few small lots of good and choice $2-91 pound, $22—30, latter price top. Odd head of common lambs, $23—25. Ewes also scarce and steady; few good and choice, $12—12; odd common and me-

Refrigerator Fumes Gave Workman "Jag"

Passaic, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP)—A refrigerator repairman told a judge yesterday he wasn't drunk—it was cooling fluid fumes he inhaled while working in a tavern that made him that way.

And what's more, Joseph Gardella said, he was treated for methyl chloride intoxication before. A doctor backed him up and added that sniffing the stuff could lead to a jag similar to liquor.

Magistrate Morris Pashman said he'd think it over before deciding the case.

Church Report Given

The financial report of the women of the Elias Lutheran church, given by the treasurer, Mrs. George Eyster, revealed that receipts for the past year totaled $1,521.46. Disbursements, including a gift of $500 to the Tokar property fund, totaled $1,046.73, leaving a balance in the account of $474.73. The pastor, Rev. Philip Bower, complimented the women for their splendid work as shown by the report. The women of the church will sponsor the annual bazaar December 9, and serve the chicken and oyster suppers.

Roy Baker of Annandale road and Charles Valentine, Emmitsburg R. 2, are patients at the Gettysburg hospital.

The Francis X. Elder Post No. 121, American Legion, met Wednesday night. A report on the Halloween parade was made by committee chairman, Harold Hoke. The post gave a vote of thanks to the parade committees consisting of John Garner, John Keilholtz, Tip Harbaugh, Charlie Harner, Dutch and Frish Sanders, Louie Rosensteel, Dick Yoemans and William Rodgers. A report on the Legion basketball team was given by Harold Hoke. The team is progressing and Hoke promised some good games this season.

To Provide Swings

Eugene Rodgers repoprted to the Legion for the honor roll committee and gave prices on a bronze plaque. Several members suggested that a bronze plaque with scroll effect be obtained with space for adding the names of veterans who fought in the Korean war.

Everett Krismer and Dick Yoemans reported on swings for the school children. They said swings could be made from excess pipe and material that the Legion has on hand. The television committee, Harold Hoke, Charles Gillelan, Louie Rosensteel, Bud Shorb, Everett Krismer, Eugene Rodgers and Wayne McCleaf recommended buying the Crosley television set and this was passed by the board of directors.

Eugene Rodgers, vice president of the directors, spoke about the coming Armistice Day parade and asked all members of the Legion to participate, meeting at the post at 10:30 a.m. Saturday morning.

A suggestion that Legion members conduct a campaign to collect old or broken toys and have them repaired to be presented to needy children at Christmas was tabled because it was considered too late to do this work this Christmas. Two new members were voted into the club, Raymond Baker, Emmitsburg, and Paul J. Centi, Mount St. Mary's college.

TEACHER MAY TAKE APPEAL

Media, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Delaware county court won't interfere with attempts of the Lansdowne School Board to compel a teacher to collect tickets at a football game without extra pay. The court yesterday dismissed a ruling by Judge Arthur P. Bretherick ordering the board to show cause why an injunction should not be issued.

A. Todd Coronway, a teacher at Lansdowne high for 21 years and father of three children, had asked the court to restrain the school board. Now he says he and his supporters are considering an appeal to the State Superior court, an appeal to the State Board of Education or further suits.

President Judge Harold L. Erwin wrote in an opinion concurred in by Judge Henry G. Sweney: "The duties of the school teacher are not defined by statute but arise from the contract of hiring entered into by the school teacher with the school board. This case goes far beyond the plaintiff. It will affect the duties and compensation of all school teachers."

Coronway said he feels that extra work should bring extra pay. The court said board members also serve without pay.

Judge Ervin commented that it was unfortunate the state legislature had not defined a teacher's duties "so that questions such as this would not become the subject of controversy. We know of no finer group of persons than school teachers and it is well known that they are very poorly paid."

Urges Yanks To Be Proud Of Service

College Station, Texas, Nov. 10 (AP)—Americans, young and old, have been warned by General Eisenhower they must be proud of their military service.

The general told 5,000 Texas A. & M. ROTC cadets yesterday young American must accept such service proudly, cheerfully and as a personal obligation.

Older men, he said, must look back fondly upon prior military service "regardless of red tape and martinets. . . ."

Until this is done, he said, the nation will not be as strong as it could be.

Eisenhower was the principal speaker at inaugural ceremonies for Dr. M. T. Harrington, twelfth president of Texas A. & M., an institution that has seen thousands of its ROTC graduates serve in the military forces.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Harold Stassen said last night the re-election of Senator Robert A. Taft did not indicate the Republican party plans to follow the Ohioan's "conservative and isolationist policy."

Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, told a dinner meeting of an organization known as "the first defenders" that he feels the re-election of Taft means "the Republican party must accept its new obligations with humility and foresight."

PASTORS SEEK GAMBLING QUIZ

Charleroi, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Nearly 100 ministers want Governor James H. Duff to probe rackets, gambling and political corruption in southwestern Pennsylvania.

The clergymen are members of the Monongahela Valley Ministerium, composed of 98 pastors representing 21 denominations in Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

The Rev. Rodger D. Winger, pastor of the Charleroi Christian church, said the call for an investigation was based on an article appearing recently in a magazine of nation-wide circulation exposing alleged conditions in the valley.

The ministerium sent telegrams to Governor Duff and to Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn), chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating committee, which said:

"In view of recent publicity exposing political corruption, rackets and gambling in the Monongahela Valley, the Monongahela Valley Ministerium . . . urges the governor of the state of Pennsylvania to order a state investigation of this corruption, looking toward the correction of this situation."

Young Texan Killed Trying To Pet Lions

Reynosa, Mexico, Nov. 10 (AP)—A young Texan who entered a lion's den to "pet the cats" was killed by an African lion. The youth was identified as Eugene G. Terry, 23, who lives on a farm near San Juan, Texas.

Two friends of Terry — Mickey Whilley of McAllen and George Cameron of Edinburg—said a young female lion jumped on Terry when he flashed a flashlight in her face early yesterday morning.

The lions were in a concrete and iron barred cage at the rear of a night club.

Edward Benet, U.S. consul, said from his investigation he believed Terry died from a large gash on the head, received when the lion knocked him to the floor and he struck a ledge. Cameron said he and Whilley begged Terry not to go into the cage.

IKE FEARFUL OF SURRENDER OF FREEDOMS

College Station, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—General Eisenhower warned Thursday against gradual surrender of freedom to the federal government.

"The central struggle of our times," said the war-time supreme Allied commander in Europe, "is that of freedom against regimentation."

His address was prepared for the inauguration Thursday of Dr. M. T. Harrington as president of Texas A. and M. college here.

"In this country, we need not fear a Mussolini or a Hitler," said Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university. "Nor need we fear a Lenin.

"But one thing we must fear—decay of our freedom through our own neglect. A Mussolini, Hitler or Lenin would not tolerate freedom of the ballot, yet half our people do not choose to exercise it. No dictator would permit free assembly of citizens to discuss public questions; yet how many of us exercise our right—and obligation—to scrutinize and debate proposed legislation?

Admits External Threat

"Despotism, whatever its guise, develops when men, losing faith in themselves, surrender bit by bit their own responsibilities to a central authority."

Eisenhower expressed confidence "America's moral, intellectual and material resources are more than equal" to "the external threat against America's freedoms." He said the source of this external threat "is clear and the destructive purpose unmistakable."

He said he had no fear Americans will respond to dangers of which they are fully aware and which they understand. The danger, he said, "is that the cares of daily life can blind them to a creeping peril."

"Voluntary association among men involves voluntary abdication of some individual freedom, the acceptance of some subordination to the will of the majority or the decisions of the leader," said Eisenhower. "Each individual may give up only a minute bit of personal liberty but the total adds up to partial mastery over the group for anyone who wants to grab it.

"By every step we take toward making the state the caretaker of our lives, by that much we move toward making the state our master."

News Briefs

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Albert L. Landis, former treasurer and sheriff of Northumberland county and prominent legionnaire, is dead at 62. Landis, department service officer of the American Legion, died yesterday in his apartment. He was a native of Mount Carmel, Pa., where he formed the Harry Geist Legion post and served as its commander in 1925 and 1926.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Support of the Hoover program for elimination of waste and inefficiency in the federal government is asked of newly elected members of Congress from Pennsylvania. Francis J. Chesterman, chairman of the Eastern Pennsylvania Citizens committee for the Hoover Report, said yesterday. "The people of Pennsylvania expect their elected Congressmen and Senator to support the Citizens' committee for the Hoover report."

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 10 (AP)—Tests of a new drug on volunteer mosquito-bitten Illinois prison inmates has led to a "practically 100 per cent cure" for recurring malaria, a University of Chicago physician said today. Malaria is one of the most widespread diseases in the world, affecting an estimated 300,000,000 persons. The new drug is primaquine, used in combination with quinine.

Moscow, Nov. 10 (AP)—In its first comment on the U. S elections Pravda declared Thursday that the new American congress will differ but little from the old one, since the Democrats and Republicans are equally reactionary.

U.S. DELEGATION TO ASK ACTION TO CHECK WAR

Lake Success, Nov. 10 (AP) — The United States is expected to call on the U. N. Security Council today to move "as rapidly as it can" to prevent Chinese Communist intervention in Korea from spreading the conflict.

With the backing of Britain and France, the American delegation will ask the council to go ahead with its discussion of the Korean case without waiting for the arrival of Chinese Communist representatives.

Russia already has served notice she will fight all consideration of the question until the Chinese Reds have been brought before the council and given a chance to answer the charges made against them by Gen. MacArthur, U. N. commander in Korea, and the American delegation.

See Argument On Agenda

Today's council meeting (scheduled for 3 p.m. EST), orignally was called to consider the Palestine case. Addition of the Korean question is expected to set the stage for a lengthy argument over the agenda. Such a wrangle could prevent the council from going to grips with the Korean issue this afternoon.

The United States will try to prevent such a development. Porter McKeever, spokesman for the American delegation, told reporters last night the council "must move ahead" and not allow the Chinese Communists to so time their arrival at Lake Success, as to impede the council's work. He added:

"The clear duty of the council is to do everything it can as rapidly as it can to prevent the conflict in Korea from spreading."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says 50 degrees is the best temperature at which to store hatching eggs.

EUB Church Opens Conference Today

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Evangelical United Brethren church opened its 37th general conference here today. Twelve countries have sent delegates to the 10-day conference, and the denomination's 51 conferences in the United States also are represented. The church has some 800,000 members.

It is the first meeting here since the Evangelical and United Brethren churches were united as the EUB church in November, 1946.

The opening session today started with a procession led by the church's 11 bishops, followed by the 26 general officers. Bishop John S. Stamm of Harrisburg, Pa., makes the keynote address this afternoon. Bishop A. R. Clippinger of Dayton is presiding.

The two bishops will be marking the end of their active careers with the EUB church. They will retire at the final session of the conference.

FIND MINER'S BODY

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Rescue workers last night recovered the body of a 43-year-old miner who had been trapped by a coal fall 65 feet below the surface. Fifty volunteers had worked at fever pitch for hours in hopes the miner, John Reise, of Minersville, was still alive. His body was finally located under 12 feet of coal and other debris.

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP) — The Scranton Electric Co. will raise rates for 1,071 metered steam heat users effective Nov 17. The Public Utility commission took no action on the proposed $77,900 increase, when it found the increase was not excessive. The increase will range from nine to 15 cents per 1,000 pounds.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Democrats believe Maurice Osser, their nominee for representative in Pennsylvania third congressional district, can pick up enough votes in the official count to overcome the 116-vote margin held by Hardie Scott, Republican incumbent.

Slain In Argument Over Parked Auto

Harrisburg, Nov. 9 (AP)—A former Harrisburg resident who returned here to vote was shot and killed late today during an argument over the spot where he parked his car.

The victim was Louis William Johnson, 35, now of Washington, D. C., who was killed by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Harrisburg police said Jessie Burney, 61-year-old steelworker pulled the trigger as Johnson, angered by being told where he should park, rushed at Burney. The argument occurred at a garage.

City Detective Arthur Burlew, who is investigating the case, said Burney was committed to Dauphin county jail without bail and will appear before Alderman Joseph Demma within the next few days.

Milestone in a Career!

We see it happen over and over again—and it's one of the greatest satisfactions we enjoy in this happy business of selling Cadillac cars.

It's when a man comes into possession of his first Cadillac—and we see the wonderful things it does for him.

We see his happiness as he places his order—not as the result of a sudden inspiration, but because he has gradually reached the conclusion that he has earned the right to enjoy the unquestioned best.

And then we see him on that happy day when his car is available for delivery—and he settles himself so proudly behind the wheel.

He's a little quizzical, we sometimes note. Could it be, he wonders, that he has been anticipating a bit too much?

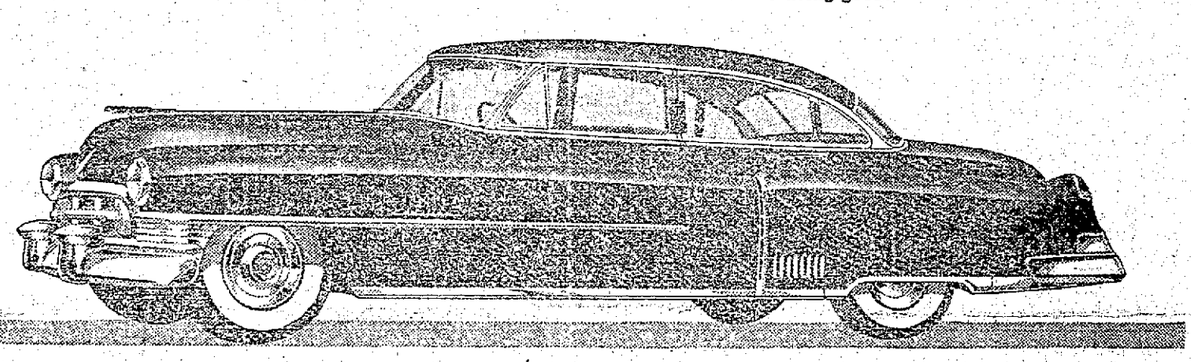

And then he's out in the street—headed for home the long way 'round.

Those are thrilling days that follow.

There's the first long ride with the family . . . the first trip to the office . . . and the time he learns, in an emergency, that his car is worth its whole price in safety alone.

And then, almost before he knows it, the odometer registers a thousand miles—and he's back to tell us all about it. And, perhaps, to grumble a little bit at giving it up—even for a little while!

Yes, it's a priceless privilege to watch all this. Makes a man feel that he's doing good.

IKE FEARFUL OF SURRENDER OF FREEDOMS

College Station, Tex., Nov. 10 (AP)—General Eisenhower warned Thursday against gradual surrender of freedom to the federal government.

"The central struggle of our times," said the war-time supreme Allied commander in Europe, "is that of freedom against regimentation."

His address was prepared for the inauguration Thursday of Dr. M. T. Harrington as president of Texas A. and M. college here.

"In this country, we need not fear a Mussolini or a Hitler," said Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university. "Nor need we fear a Lenin.

"But one thing we must fear—decay of our freedom through our own neglect. A Mussolini, Hitler or Lenin would not tolerate freedom of the ballot, yet half our people do not choose to exercise it. No dictator would permit free assembly of citizens to discuss public questions; yet how many of us exercise our right—and obligation—to scrutinize and debate proposed legislation?

Admits External Threat

"Despotism, whatever its guise, develops when men, losing faith in themselves, surrender bit by bit their own responsibilities to a central authority."

Eisenhower expressed confidence "America's moral, intellectual and material resources are more than equal" to "the external threat against America's freedoms." He said the source of this external threat "is clear and the destructive purpose unmistakable."

He said he had no fear Americans will respond to dangers of which they are fully aware and which they understand. The danger, he said, "is that the cares of daily life can blind them to a creeping peril."

"Voluntary association among men involves voluntary abdication of some individual freedom, the acceptance of some subordination to the will of the majority or the decisions of the leader," said Eisenhower. "Each individual may give up only a minute bit of personal liberty but the total adds up to partial mastery over the group for anyone who wants to grab it.

"By every step we take toward making the state the caretaker of our lives, by that much we move toward making the state our master."

News Briefs

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Albert L. Landis, former treasurer and sheriff of Northumberland county and prominent legionnaire, is dead at 62. Landis, department service officer of the American Legion, died yesterday in his apartment. He was a native of Mount Carmel, Pa., where he formed the Harry Geist Legion post and served as its commander in 1925 and 1926.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Support of the Hoover program for elimination of waste and inefficiency in the federal government is asked of newly elected members of Congress from Pennsylvania. Francis J. Chesterman, chairman of the Eastern Pennsylvania Citizens committee for the Hoover Report, said yesterday. "The people of Pennsylvania expect their elected Congressmen and Senator to support the Citizens' committee for the Hoover report."

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 10 (AP)—Tests of a new drug on volunteer mosquito-bitten Illinois prison inmates has led to a "practically 100 per cent cure" for recurring malaria, a University of Chicago physician said today. Malaria is one of the most widespread diseases in the world, affecting an estimated 300,000,000 persons. The new drug is primaquine, used in combination with quinine.

Moscow, Nov. 10 (AP)—In its first comment on the U. S elections Pravda declared Thursday that the new American congress will differ but little from the old one, since the Democrats and Republicans are equally reactionary.

U.S. DELEGATION TO ASK ACTION TO CHECK WAR

Lake Success, Nov. 10 (AP) — The United States is expected to call on the U. N. Security Council today to move "as rapidly as it can" to prevent Chinese Communist intervention in Korea from spreading the conflict.

With the backing of Britain and France, the American delegation will ask the council to go ahead with its discussion of the Korean case without waiting for the arrival of Chinese Communist representatives.

Russia already has served notice she will fight all consideration of the question until the Chinese Reds have been brought before the council and given a chance to answer the charges made against them by Gen. MacArthur, U. N. commander in Korea, and the American delegation.

See Argument On Agenda

Today's council meeting (scheduled for 3 p.m. EST), orignally was called to consider the Palestine case. Addition of the Korean question is expected to set the stage for a lengthy argument over the agenda. Such a wrangle could prevent the council from going to grips with the Korean issue this afternoon.

The United States will try to prevent such a development. Porter McKeever, spokesman for the American delegation, told reporters last night the council "must move ahead" and not allow the Chinese Communists to so time their arrival at Lake Success, as to impede the council's work. He added:

"The clear duty of the council is to do everything it can as rapidly as it can to prevent the conflict in Korea from spreading."

Church Report Given

The financial report of the women of the Elias Lutheran church, given by the treasurer, Mrs. George Eyster, revealed that receipts for the past year totaled $1,521.46. Disbursements, including a gift of $500 to the Tokar property fund, totaled $1,046.73, leaving a balance in the account of $474.73. The pastor, Rev. Philip Bower, complimented the women for their splendid work as shown by the report. The women of the church will sponsor the annual bazaar December 9, and serve the chicken and oyster suppers.

Roy Baker of Annandale road and Charles Valentine, Emmitsburg R. 2, are patients at the Gettysburg hospital.

The Francis X. Elder Post No. 121, American Legion, met Wednesday night. A report on the Halloween parade was made by committee chairman, Harold Hoke. The post gave a vote of thanks to the parade committees consisting of John Garner, John Keilholtz, Tip Harbaugh, Charlie Harner, Dutch and Frish Sanders, Louie Rosensteel, Dick Yoemans and William Rodgers. A report on the Legion basketball team was given by Harold Hoke. The team is progressing and Hoke promised some good games this season.

To Provide Swings

Eugene Rodgers repoprted to the Legion for the honor roll committee and gave prices on a bronze plaque. Several members suggested that a bronze plaque with scroll effect be obtained with space for adding the names of veterans who fought in the Korean war.

Everett Krismer and Dick Yoemans reported on swings for the school children. They said swings could be made from excess pipe and material that the Legion has on hand. The television committee, Harold Hoke, Charles Gillelan, Louie Rosensteel, Bud Shorb, Everett Krismer, Eugene Rodgers and Wayne McCleaf recommended buying the Crosley television set and this was passed by the board of directors.

Eugene Rodgers, vice president of the directors, spoke about the coming Armistice Day parade and asked all members of the Legion to participate, meeting at the post at 10:30 a.m. Saturday morning.

A suggestion that Legion members conduct a campaign to collect old or broken toys and have them repaired to be presented to needy children at Christmas was tabled because it was considered too late to do this work this Christmas. Two new members were voted into the club, Raymond Baker, Emmitsburg, and Paul J. Centi, Mount St. Mary's college.

TEACHER MAY TAKE APPEAL

Media, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Delaware county court won't interfere with attempts of the Lansdowne School Board to compel a teacher to collect tickets at a football game without extra pay. The court yesterday dismissed a ruling by Judge Arthur P. Bretherick ordering the board to show cause why an injunction should not be issued.

A. Todd Coronway, a teacher at Lansdowne high for 21 years and father of three children, had asked the court to restrain the school board. Now he says he and his supporters are considering an appeal to the State Superior court, an appeal to the State Board of Education or further suits.

President Judge Harold L. Erwin wrote in an opinion concurred in by Judge Henry G. Sweney: "The duties of the school teacher are not defined by statute but arise from the contract of hiring entered into by the school teacher with the school board. This case goes far beyond the plaintiff. It will affect the duties and compensation of all school teachers."

Coronway said he feels that extra work should bring extra pay. The court said board members also serve without pay.

Judge Ervin commented that it was unfortunate the state legislature had not defined a teacher's duties "so that questions such as this would not become the subject of controversy. We know of no finer group of persons than school teachers and it is well known that they are very poorly paid."

Urges Yanks To Be Proud Of Service

College Station, Texas, Nov. 10 (AP)—Americans, young and old, have been warned by General Eisenhower they must be proud of their military service.

The general told 5,000 Texas A. & M. ROTC cadets yesterday young American must accept such service proudly, cheerfully and as a personal obligation.

Older men, he said, must look back fondly upon prior military service "regardless of red tape and martinets. . . ."

Until this is done, he said, the nation will not be as strong as it could be.

Eisenhower was the principal speaker at inaugural ceremonies for Dr. M. T. Harrington, twelfth president of Texas A. & M., an institution that has seen thousands of its ROTC graduates serve in the military forces.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Harold Stassen said last night the re-election of Senator Robert A. Taft did not indicate the Republican party plans to follow the Ohioan's "conservative and isolationist policy."

Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, told a dinner meeting of an organization known as "the first defenders" that he feels the re-election of Taft means "the Republican party must accept its new obligations with humility and foresight."

PASTORS SEEK GAMBLING QUIZ

Charleroi, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—Nearly 100 ministers want Governor James H. Duff to probe rackets, gambling and political corruption in southwestern Pennsylvania.

The clergymen are members of the Monongahela Valley Ministerium, composed of 98 pastors representing 21 denominations in Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

The Rev. Rodger D. Winger, pastor of the Charleroi Christian church, said the call for an investigation was based on an article appearing recently in a magazine of nation-wide circulation exposing alleged conditions in the valley.

The ministerium sent telegrams to Governor Duff and to Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn), chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating committee, which said:

"In view of recent publicity exposing political corruption, rackets and gambling in the Monongahela Valley, the Monongahela Valley Ministerium . . . urges the governor of the state of Pennsylvania to order a state investigation of this corruption, looking toward the correction of this situation."

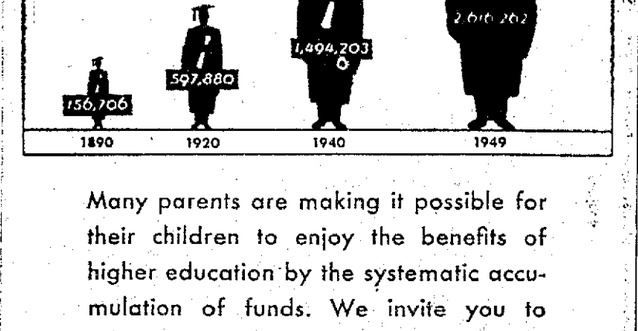

Young Texan Killed Trying To Pet Lions

Reynosa, Mexico, Nov. 10 (AP)—A young Texan who entered a lion's den to "pet the cats" was killed by an African lion. The youth was identified as Eugene G. Terry, 23, who lives on a farm near San Juan, Texas.

Two friends of Terry — Mickey Whilley of McAllen and George Cameron of Edinburg—said a young female lion jumped on Terry when he flashed a flashlight in her face early yesterday morning.

The lions were in a concrete and iron barred cage at the rear of a night club.

Edward Benet, U.S. consul said from his investigation he believed Terry died from a large gash on the head, received when the lion knocked him to the floor and he struck a ledge. Cameron said he and Whilley begged Terry not to go into the cage.

MEN'S CHORUS TO GIVE THIRD CONCERT NOV. 24

The Littlestown Men's chorus will present its third annual concert on Friday evening, November 24, at 8 o'clock, in the Littlestown high school auditorium. The concert will follow the same general pattern as in previous years, with a variety of numbers by the chorus and soloists, selections combining the chorus with the women's group and special entertainment.

The added entertainment feature the chorus has secured this year is "Les" Clewell and the "Harmonica Chords." Mr. Clewell will be remembered as the organizer of the "Harmonica Revelers," of Littlestown, which was composed of several young men of the town. This group met with much success and appeared on the Major Bowes amateur hour radio program. World War II caused the "Revelers" to disband and only recently did Mr. Clewell organize the "Harmonica Chords," with David Campbell, John Orndorff and Mr. Clewell forming the trio. They will appear midway through the concert program, which will mark their first appearance in the area.

Special numbers by the chorus and soloists are now in preparation. Some of the numbers will feature special stage effects and lighting, which will present the chorus members not only as singers, but also as the patrons of a tea room in one scene. As in past concerts, variety will be the keynote of the event.

"The Song of Christmas," a Fred Waring choral arrangement for mixed voices and soloists, will be presented again this year. Mack Edwards, program director of radio station WHVR, will be narrator for this work, which will be the last part of the program.

Another feature of the program will be "Prelude of the Bells," and a difficult arrangement for mixed voices of the popular piano work by Rachmaninoff, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor."

All seats in the high school auditorium will be reserved. The three sections of elevated seats and the lower center section will be reserved at 75c per seat, while the other two lower sections will be reserved at 50c per seat. Last year only part of the auditorium was reserved.

Buying New Gowns

Tickets will go on sale Saturday at Marvin's Cut Rate store in Littlestown, and will be sold the night of the concert at the auditorium.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to defray the costs of gowns that are being made for members of the women's group and the pianists. It is expected that the gowns will be finished in time so that the women's group will appear in them for the first night of the concert.

The chorus was organized April 8, 1948, and since that time has filled numerous singing engagements. Two series of weekly broadcasts, each of thirteen weeks duration, were completed, and plans are being made now for a third schedule of broadcasts to begin in January.

Some of the more notable appearances made by the chorus were: the 181st Rotary District conference in Carlisle last year; the Adams County Sesqui centennial pageant in Gettysburg; two appearances at the Veterans hospital at Lebanon, and one at the Coatesville Veterans hospital. This Sunday night the chorus will sing at the Third District Sunday school rally to be held at St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. Further announcements regarding the concert will be made in the near future.

MEN'S CHORUS TO GIVE THIRD CONCERT NOV. 24

The Littlestown Men's chorus will present its third annual concert on Friday evening, November 24, at 8 o'clock, in the Littlestown high school auditorium. The concert will follow the same general pattern as in previous years, with a variety of numbers by the chorus and soloists, selections combining the chorus with the women's group and special entertainment.

The added entertainment feature the chorus has secured this year is "Les" Clewell and the "Harmonica Chords." Mr. Clewell will be remembered as the organizer of the "Harmonica Revelers," of Littlestown, which was composed of several young men of the town. This group met with much success and appeared on the Major Bowes amateur hour radio program. World War II caused the "Revelers" to disband and only recently did Mr. Clewell organize the "Harmonica Chords," with David Campbell, John Orndorff and Mr. Clewell forming the trio. They will appear midway through the concert program, which will mark their first appearance in the area.

Special numbers by the chorus and soloists are now in preparation. Some of the numbers will feature special stage effects and lighting, which will present the chorus members not only as singers, but also as the patrons of a tea room in one scene. As in past concerts, variety will be the keynote of the event.

"The Song of Christmas," a Fred Waring choral arrangement for mixed voices and soloists, will be presented again this year. Mack Edwards, program director of radio station WHVR, will be narrator for this work, which will be the last part of the program.

Another feature of the program will be "Prelude of the Bells," and a difficult arrangement for mixed voices of the popular piano work by Rachmaninoff, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor."

All seats in the high school auditorium will be reserved. The three sections of elevated seats and the lower center section will be reserved at 75c per seat, while the other two lower sections will be reserved at 50c per seat. Last year only part of the auditorium was reserved.

Buying New Gowns

Tickets will go on sale Saturday at Marvin's Cut Rate store in Littlestown, and will be sold the night of the concert at the auditorium.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to defray the costs of gowns that are being made for members of the women's group and the pianists. It is expected that the gowns will be finished in time so that the women's group will appear in them for the first night of the concert.

The chorus was organized April 8, 1948, and since that time has filled numerous singing engagements. Two series of weekly broadcasts, each of thirteen weeks duration, were completed, and plans are being made now for a third schedule of broadcasts to begin in January.

Some of the more notable appearances made by the chorus were: the 181st Rotary District conference in Carlisle last year; the Adams County Sesqui centennial pageant in Gettysburg; two appearances at the Veterans hospital at Lebanon, and one at the Coatesville Veterans hospital. This Sunday night the chorus will sing at the Third District Sunday school rally to be held at St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. Further announcements regarding the concert will be made in the near future.

Police Alerted In Telephone Strike

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP)—Police were alerted today to prevent any further picket line flareups as Pennsylvania CIO Communications Workers continued their strike—part of a nationwide walkout.

The only violence reported on the first day of the work stoppage yesterday occurred in Pittsburgh.

Two off-duty policemen were booed as they crossed picket lines to pay telephone bills. A fight followed and both policemen, Robert Montgomery, 28, and Carl Lubman, 29, were suspended pending a hearing on charges they were disorderly and "under the influence of alcohol."

Five other persons were arrested in picket line disturbances yesterday in Pittsburgh. Three pickets were charged with inciting to riot and two other men were charged with disorderly conduct. All were listed for hearings today.

SEA MONSTER IS STRING OF DUMMY MINES

London, Nov. 10 (AP) — Grizzled torpedo and mining experts of a Royal Navy school at Plymouth declared today the controversial monster of Loch Ness is actually 40 monsters, all man-made.

Each monster, they said, consists of a string of dummy mines from World War I. They said 320 mines, joined together eight to a string, were moored to the bottom of the renowned Scottish lake by the minelayer Welbeck as an experiment in 1918 and the strings have been popping up one at a time ever since.

This debunking pained the tourist-loving innkeepers of Inverness, where the Loch drains into the North Sea.

"Utter nonsense," snorted J. C. Mackay, staff veteran of the Inverness Courier. "There'e a living, breathing monster in that lake. In all, more than 1,000 persons have reported sighting it."

Wary of Scottish wrath the Royal Navy experts declined to give their names, but told newsmen:

Each of the dummy mines had four horns to contain its detonators. The horns were made of a material that would crumble when exposed to the air. As the years passed, the strings tore loose one by one from their moorings. When they reached the surface, the horns crumbled and the mines slowly filled with water. Then they rolled over and sank.

"There may be a half dozen strings still left on the bottom," one of the experts said. "At a distance, they make a very fine monster. It has been a good laugh for the few of us in the know."

More than 100 professional puppet show companies tour the U. S. every year.

FINE HAS MADE SOME CHOICES IN HIS CABINET

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—Speculation ran high in state capitol circles today following governor-elect John S. Fine's announcement that he has decided on some cabinet appointments.

Fine said at his home in Nanticoke last night that he has made up his mind on some cabinet members but is not ready to release the names. Some announcements may be made before the end of next week when he goes to Florida for a vacation, Fine added.

The former Superior court judge said he already had given "considerable thought" to cabinet appointees prior to his 90,000-vote victory over Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate, in Tuesday's election.

Speculation Begins

"I expected to be elected," he said, "the responsibilities of the governor of a great state like Pennsylvania, the arsenal of democracy, are so weighty I could not help but have definite ideas beforehand on my administration."

In some quarters, it was believed that Fine would reappoint Secretary of Highways Ray F. Smock, Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst, Adjutant General Frank A. Weber and State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm.

Reported for other roles in the Fine administration, although not necessarily in their present posts were Secretary of Revenue Otto F. Messner, Secretary of the Commonwealth Gene Smith, Secretary of Labor and Industry William Chesnut, Secretary of Welfare William C. Brown and Secretary of Forests and Waters Milo F. Draemel.

May Oust Strickler

One major change in a high state office appeared in the offing when State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor indicated he will take over the duties of Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler as lieutenant-governor.

Whether Strickler is ousted as lieutenant-governor is up to the State Justice Department which must rule on whether he is eligible due to his recent entry into the Army with the federalized 28th Infantry Division. A section of the state constitution intimates that a high state official cannot hold a federal post.

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti said in New York last night that he will make a ruling on the eligibility question "within a week." Margiotti asserted he would make the ruling "promptly" upon his return to Harrisburg, which he said will be next Monday.

Strickler Won't Quit

Strickler, reached at Camp Atterbury, Ind., said he had no intention of resigning as lieutenant-governor.

"I was elected for full four-year term," Strickler said, "by the people of Pennsylvania and any ruling the attorney general might make in connection with matters before the State Pardon Board will have no bearing on declairing the office of lieutenant-governor vacant, as far as I'm concerned."

In Pennsylvania, the lieutenant-governor presides over sessions of the pardon board. Strickler said in his opinion the board can function with three members in his absence.

Should Strickler be ruled out as lieutenant-governor, Taylor would assume the new duties by virtue of his post as president pro tempore in the Senate.

Duff May Quit Early

Some question also nas been raised in Harrisburg over the possibility that Gov. James H. Duff—now Senator-elect—would resign before the end of his term on January 16 in order to become better acquainted with his new duties in Washington.

One source said yesterday that Duff had no intention of quitting before the expiration of his terms as governor and that he probably would not take his oath of office as U.S. Senator until January 17. Duff would be eligible to take his oath as Senator on January 3 when the 82nd Congress organizes.

Pennsylvania's other senator, Edward Martin, resigned 19 days before the end of his term as governor to go to Washington. Martin's lieutenant-governor, John C. Bell, Jr., became acting governor.

Mummasburg

Mummasburg—The Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Hoopert and children, Delores and Daniel, of Elizabethtown, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrison and Miss Nellie Leatherman. Sunday visitors at the Harmon home were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hockenberry, of Waynesboro, and Miss Isolde Mueller, a native of Germany.

Miss Evelyn Hoffman of Rocky Ridge, Md., is spending sometime at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fritz.

John Hankey, of Washington, D. C., was a recent visitor of his father, William Hankey, who is spending sometime at the Fritz home helping to care for his sister, Miss Fritz, who is recuperating from the effect of a stroke suffered two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Warner and son, Richard, of Waynesboro spent Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller and family.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hartman were Mrs. Hartman's sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Secrest, and daughter, Sarah, and Shielda Mae Secrest, of Big Pool, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Secrest and daughters, Mildred, Lucille, Louise and Mary, of Clear Spring, Md.

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP) — An unofficial tabulation today by the chief clerk of the State House of Representatives showed the Republicans picked up three House seats in Tuesday's general election.

The gain brought their total in the lower chamber to 120 compared with 88 for the Democrats. The Associated Press tabulation yesterday incorrectly listed Vest P. Eppley a Democrat as elected from the second district in York county. Instead, Luther L. Bear, a Conewago township Republican, captured the district seat.
